THE WOOL GROWERS of the United States, at a National Convention held in Cleveland some months ago, announced their determination to support no man for public office who is identified with the Free Trade party. It is charged that the Republican candidate for Governor of Ohio, General R. B. Hays, is opposed to protection and in favor of free trade. His nomination is consequently in a large measure distasteful to the wool growers of that State, and it is highly probable they will give him no support. A convention of the growers has been called to assemble in Cleveland, to determine a line of policy to pursue in the premises of the case. Some of the prominent wool growers favor the project of withdrawing all support from General Hays, and concentrating the strength of the agricultural element on Mr. Galloway, the candidate for Lieutenant Governor. By so doing, they claim that they will develop their own importance at the ballot box, and show the leaders of the party how far the wool growers can be ignored in State politics.

VICTOR HUGO, one of the greatest of French citizens, is the most illustrious of French exiles. When he heard, in his retreat, that English Courts had condemned the Fenians to death, he wrote an exceedingly eloquent letter against the execution of the sentence. Take a sample:

"They tell us the scaffold is ready. We reply that is not possible. No; the political scaffold is not possible in England. When England hailed Kossuth it was not that she might imitate the gibbets of Hungary; it was not for the purpose of renewing the hangings of Sicily that England glorified Garibaldi. Else what would signify the hurrahs of London and of Southampton? Put an end, if it was so, to all your Polish, Greek and Italian committees. No; England, in 1867, will not execute Ireland. That Elizabeth will not behead that Mary Stuart. The nineteenth century exists. * * * What! on a May or June morning, to-day, to-morrow, a man, because he has a political or national faith; because he has struggled for that faith; because he has been vanquished, shall be bound with cords, shall have a black cap drawn over his face, and be hanged and strangled until death ensued. No! you are not England for that. You have at present this advantage over France, that you are a free nation. France, as great as England, is not mistress of herself, and that is a sad diminution. You pride yourself upon it. Be it so. But beware. It is possible to go back a century in one day. To recede even to the political gallows! You, England! Then erect a statue to Jefferys. Meanwhile we will erect a statue to Voltaire. Do you give it a thought?"

IT IS GENERALLY understood that one may stand too near an object or an ev[illegible] to view it in its proper proportions, o[illegible] duly estimate its character and co[illegible]quences. Mr. John Bright recently s[illegible] to a company of Americans:

"Nothing in history equals the g[illegible]ous triumph of humanity and liberty [illegible] your country. You will find thi[illegible] much changed for the better in Gre[illegible] Britain. The overthrow of your enemi[illegible] at home has surrounded your cause wit[illegible] friends abroad. The wonderful magnanimity with which you have treated the Rebels (who would have instantly been hung by hundreds if they had taken up arms against a monarchy) has been a terrible contrast to the cruelty of these bad men, and an admonition and example to the tyrants of the earth."

Standing apart from the strife that has raged here, and looking on as a disinterested spectator, the great English Commoner is enabled to anticipate the judgment of posterity.

MR. GOLDWIN SMITH has written a letter on the mania for gambling in England, and particularly as culminating in the Derby races. He says the horses are no more than two straws drawn from a hay stack, or than two drops of water, chasing each other down a window pane; that the motive is not recreation or amusement, but the blindest infatuation for games of hazard; and that many aristocratic houses are coming swiftly to ruin, through indulgence in the debasing pleasure.

A SUICIDE of a horribly sickening nature is reported from Springfield, Mass. An old lady, with a single bladed knife, cut a terrible gash in her abdomen and tore out her bowels, placing them, with her own hands, in a tub of water. She survived the operation four hours. This refined cruelty will hardly be followed by those contemplating self-destruction, as easier and more expeditious methods of cutting life's thread will suggest themselves.

ALREADY enough members of Congress have signified their intention of being in Washington, to insure a quorum for a short session in July. Some propose only to elucidate the Reconstruction act, and to engage in no other business, while others are anxious to organize for the regular routine of Congressional labor. A feeling pointing to impeachment has of late rapidly developed itself among members who have hitherto opposed the movement.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Charleston Mercury speaks of President Johnson as "the great constitutional break-water to the angry tide that is now sweeping over the South." That is decidedly good, considering what the Mercury and its set did towards demolishing break-water, Constitution and all.

REPUBLICAN mass meetings are now as common at the South as instances of mob violence were just before the war. Do these meetings, and the results they foreshadow, constitute the real objection of the President to the Congressional Plan?

IT is somewhat amusing to peruse the reports by cable from Prussia and France. From the former we learn of the war preparations of the latter. Both are distrustful, and appear to take but little stock in the peace pretensions of each other.

AT a cost approximating an hundred thousand dollars the Jewish element of St. Louis are about to erect a magnificent temple of worship in that city, the corner stone of which was laid yesterday.

THE affairs of Candia are to be examined into by a commission to be appointed by the Great Powers in conjunction with the Sultan of Turkey.

Our lady readers of the sewing circle will be pleased to learn that the Queen of Prussia takes tea to-day with Victoria.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON is to have a grand Masonic reception in New York and Brooklyn on his return from Boston.

IMMIGRANTS continue to arrive in large numbers at New York.

THE SURRATT TRIAL.

Motion of Defense to Re-call Witnesses for Cross-Examination Overruled—Highly Important Testimony—Movements of the Conspirators at Surrattsville.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 24, 1867.

TRIAL OF SURRATT.

Judge Fisher read the opinion of the Court overruling the motion submitted by the defence on Saturday, asking to re-call witnesses for the purpose of cross-examination.

The defence noted an exception, and Mr. Merrick desired to file an affidavit bearing upon the same matter; but counsel for the prosecution objected, and the Court said the affidavit should have been filed before the opinion was delivered.

Dr. J. F. May testified to his identification of the body of Booth by a scar on the neck, occasioned by a surgical operation performed by himself.

John Greenwalt, who kept the Pennsylvania House, repeated his testimony given on the conspiracy trial, concerning Booth and Atzerott; also recognized the prisoner as a frequent visitor to his house.

The defence noted an exception to the testimony of these witnesses as irrelevant.

John M. Lloyd, who kept tavern at Surrattsville, testified that he rented the house from Mrs. Surratt; have seen Harold and Atzerott; saw both at my house about six weeks before the assassination. Harold stayed all night. Next day Surratt and Atzerott drove up. There were several persons at the house beside them. They came in, took a drink, and played cards. After a while Surratt called me in the parlor. There I saw two guns and a rope on the sofa; there was also a monkey wrench. Never examined the articles, and cannot say I could identify them. The prisoner asked me to conceal the things. I at first refused, until he insisted there would be no danger to me. I consented. I told him there was no place to conceal such things, and he said he would show me a place. He then concealed the articles in an upper room under the joists. The prisoner said he only wanted me to keep the things two or three days. After these things had been concealed, Surratt, Atzerott and Harold remained some time playing cards. About three weeks after, as I was coming to Washington, I met Surratt going down. About two weeks afterwards, as I was going down, I met Surratt coming up, and never saw the three in company, except the time stated.

Mr. Carrington asked the witness if he saw Mrs. Surratt before the assassination?

Witness said he did not wish to go into an examination about Mrs. Surratt, as she was not here, and would not answer unless compelled by the Court.

The Court instructed the witness to answer.

Witness resumed and said—On Tuesday before the assassination he met Mrs. Surratt at Uniontown. She was in a buggy with a young man, whom I afterwards understood to be Weichman. Mrs. Surratt told me to have the shooting irons ready, as they would be called for soon. I told her the house was going to be searched, and I did not want the things there. The conversation turned on John Surratt. I said that I understood the soldiers were after him for going to Richmond. Mrs. Surratt laughed heartily at the idea, and said the man must be a smart one to go to Richmond and back in six days. That was about all she said at that time. On April 14th, 1865, I was at Marlboro, and when I returned home, at six o'clock, I saw a number of persons there, among them Mrs. Surratt. When I drove up, Mrs. Surratt came to meet me, handed me a package and told me to have the guns ready, and two bottles of whisky, and give them to whoever should call for them that night. Mrs. Surratt and Weichman left before dark. The package handed me contained a field glass. At twelve that night Harold came to my house and a person with him. I do not know the size of the person referred to, as he was on horseback. Harold re[illegible]rked, when he came in, "For God's sake, [illegible]ke haste and get those things." I [illegible]en went up stairs and got one [illegible] the guns, a field glass and cartridge box, [illegible]ich was all I could bring, and I did not [illegible]ack. He could not distinctly recollect, [illegible]understood Booth to say either he or [illegible] should have killed the President. Wi[illegible] [illegible]hinks Secretary Seward's name was [illegible]mentioned. The carbines referred to [illegible]overed when handed to witness. The [illegible]s were uncovered by Harold, and [illegible] noticed something peculiar about [illegible] was asked to retire temporarily, [illegible]al E. D. Townsend was called to [illegible]e stand and produced a field glass and breast pin.

Lloyd was then re-called and examined the field glass. Could not fully recognize it as the one handed to him by Mrs. Surratt. He thought the glass he saw had larger letters on it. Witness was also shown the carbines, and thought one was the same one Harold took, recognized it by the peculiarity of the lock. The other carbine was taken away by a detective. Have not seen the cartridge box since it was taken away by Harold.

After recess Lloyd was cross-examined at length, the defense questioning him so as to show that he had been in the habit of drinking and was forgetful, and had forgotten many things that had transpired. The whole object was to show that the memory of witness was not to be relied upon.

Col. E. J. Conger was sworn, but his examination deferred until to-morrow. Court adjourned.

FROM NEW YORK.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 24, 1867.

SUICIDAL ATTEMPT.

This afternoon Mrs. Mary Murphy, residing at No. 6 Center Market place, attempted suicide by cutting her throat with a table knife. She is believed to be fatally injured.

IMMIGRANTS ARRIVED.

Three thousand seven hundred and eight immigrants have arrived since Saturday.

BREWERIES SEIZED.

Several large breweries have been seized for making deficient revenue returns.

ESCAPE OF THE ROYAL SWINDLER.

It is alleged that the brother of Lord Napier, who was arrested on a charge of defrauding a Baltimore firm, disappeared after being bailed and is said to have gone to Europe.

BOGUS GIFT CONCERN.

The bogus Gift Enterprise of Clark, Webster & Co., or rather Henry C Ellias, for there is no such a firm, was again seized to-day. Ellias was arrested.

MASONIC RECEPTION PROPOSED.

It is contemplated by the Masonic fraternity of this city and Brooklyn to give a grand reception to President Johnson on his return from Boston. Should the proposed reception be given, upwards of 10,000 Masons, in full regalia, with banners of the order, will parade.

ACCIDENT IN A SCHOOL.

About sixty feet of ceiling fell in the primary department of the Public School No. 2, Jersey city, to-day. The children were frightened and made a rush for the door. Quite a number were badly injured.

HORRIBLE SUICIDE.

An Aged Lady Deliberately Disembowels Herself, and Survives Four and a Half Hours.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., June 24.—One of the most horrible suicides ever heard of was committed in this city on Saturday morning. A widow named Mary Gilmore, who lived alone, took a single blade knife, cut a frightful gash in her abdomen, and tore out her bowels, which were found detached from her body in a pail of water. The floor was covered with a great pool of blood, and on the table was a whetstone with which she had sharpened the knife. She lived four and a half hours after being disemboweled, dying at nine o'clock. During that time she was attended by a priest, and made a will bequeathing considerable property. The cause of the suicide is supposed to be insanity. Mrs. Gilmore's age was sixty-five.

CONDENSED NEWS.

—Letters and telegrams have been received by the Union Congressional Executive Committee at Washington from enough members of Congress to insure a quorum in July, so a short summer session is a fixed fact. A number of letters received from Republican members state that they will come on condition that the session shall not last over two or three weeks at the farthest. They do not wish to proceed with the regular business of Congress, but merely to fix definitely the reconstruction act, so that President Johnson and Mr. Stanberry will be prevented hereafter from giving any more trouble, and hindering reconstruction. It is evident also from the tone of the other letters received, that an attempt will be made to have Speaker Colfax announce the committees immediately, so as to be able to go right to work. This plan is favored by those anxious to impeach the President, and by others who are opposed to Secretary McCulloch's present financial policy, and especially in respect to the present system of National Banks. Those who are in favor of a long session say that if a quorum is once obtained the session will be kept up long enough to settle definitely the question of impeachment.

—A secret society has been started in Memphis, Tenn., which is said to be one of many hundred existing throughout the State among the colored population. The organization is ostensibly for benevolent purposes, but in one of its degrees it requires the initiated colored men to take a fearful oath to murder those who abandon its ranks and oppose Brownlowism.

—Jeff. Thompson has written a letter, endorsing the sentiments of General Longstreet concerning reconstruction. General Longstreet says he did not intend to ally himself with the Radical party, but only gave what he thought was the best advice to his Southern brethren, in his recent letter.

—No foundations exist for the rumors of the resignation of Secretary Stanton.

—The yellow fever has made its appearance in New Orleans.

FROM KANSAS.

Excursion Over the Union Pacific Railway, E. D.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SALINA, KANSAS, June 11, 1867.

FLOOD IN THE KANSAS.

The deluge of rain, of which I spoke in my letter of yesterday, caused an unprecedented rise in the river and its tributaries, some of the latter of which carried away the culverts and caused a suspension of the regular trains for two or three days. To-morrow they hope to have all right again. I am consequently detained here another day. But it is a pleasant place to stay. I have made the acquaintance of many estimable and intelligent people of both sexes and have leisure to bring up my jottings of my observations and impressions.

The Smoky Hill at this place, and the Saline and Solomon which come in below from the Northwest, are all very high. The two latter began to fall yesterday; but the Smoky Hill continued to swell up to yesterday evening. I have not seen it this morning. No damage whatever was done here, although the river rose over its high banks. Great quantities of drift wood, including hundreds of saw logs and some sawed lumber, floated down on Sunday and Monday. The loss in this way has been considerable.

In a former letter, you remember, I spoke of the pretty little new town of Ellsworth, on the bank of the Smoky Hill, two or three miles beyond Fort Harker, which was the extreme point of our excursion. We were there on Friday morning. On Friday night the rain commenced soon after the second hurricane of which I spoke. About ten o'clock on Saturday they had a very heavy outpouring of rain at Ellsworth, and at three in the afternoon the river had overflowed all the beautiful little plains upon which the town is built, and soon covered it to a depth of four to five feet. The current was strong. Some buildings were swept away entirely, others were moved from their places, and all were more or less damaged. Taken in the aggregate there was a large amount of merchandise in the place, much of which was damaged. I am told that the water rose ten feet in three houses. Such a visitation to a town in the first half year of its existence is very discouraging, and it is most probable that the low ground will be abandoned and the town rebuilt upon a beautiful plain above the bluff, which is not over thirty or forty feet high. The road bed of the Union Pacific Railway had just been completed to the low ground, but it sustained no damage; and it is most likely that it will now be continued up the river above the bluff for some distance. I regret this flooding of Ellsworth, both on account of the loss it occasioned to many enterprising and worthy men, and because it was one of the most charming spots I have seen in this beautiful country.

I hear of no serious damage having been done below. The railway has sustained but slight loss, of which I have already spoken. So far as ascertained by telegraph the river in no place overflowed the road. The only damage was done by small lateral streams.

CHURCH IN A SAW-MILL.

There are some religious organizations here, but as yet no house of worship has been erected. Several ample lots have been set off by the proprietors for this purpose, and soon, it is hoped, there will be several churches erected. Last Sunday the streets were in such a condition that few would venture out for any purpose; but it was announced in the paper published here that the Rev. James French, Superintendent of Western Baptist Missions, would preach in the forenoon and afternoon at a saw mill just in the rear of the town. Col. Phillips, at whose hospitable mansion I have passed some pleasant hours, and myself, walked over in the morning. We found a very small congregation, but we had a most excellent sermon.

In the afternoon, the walking having improved, we went back, accompanied by Mrs. Phillips, two young ladies of the family, and Mrs. Rickerdike, a lady who has earned for herself an enviable fame among the "women of the war" who labored in the camp and hospital for the sick and wounded. Another excellent discourse rewarded us for our rather long walk across the prairie. Seated on blocks and beams, with the deep rolling, flooded Smoky Hill, covered with drift wood, running close alongside of the open-sided rustic building, and the swallows, which had their nests on the rafters, twittering overhead, the scene was truly grand and solemn, and one that I shall not soon forget. I made Mr. French's acquaintance and shared with him that afternoon the hospitality of Col. Phillips. I found him a genial and interesting man, one who has traveled far and seen much. He knows several if not all his clerical brethren of Pittsburgh. There is a good school house here, but for some reason, doubtless satisfactory to themselves, the trustees refused to open it for Mr. French.

TWO IN A BED—EIGHT IN A ROOM.

The hotels here are large, but the one at which I stopped from Saturday until Monday evening was not such as suited a quiet man like me. It was too much crowded. I do not like two in a bed and eight in a room. One night was enough. I am now in comfortable quarters in a house which is not strictly a public house. I feel quite at home, for we have a few pleasant people, among whom I cannot forbear mentioning Mr. James Miller and lady, to whose kindness I am indebted for much of the comfort I have had while detained here. Mr. Miller is a member of the firm of M. Newton & Co., forwarding and commission merchants.

There is very little roughness and rowdyism here, but there is some. The resident population cannot be less than twelve to fifteen hundred, and what might be called the floating population some hundreds more. Large warehouses at the railroad station are crammed with goods in transitu, and the stores in town are numerous. This town is destined to be an important local centre. J. C.

FROM CINCINNATI.

Hot Weather—A Contrast—Business Wealth of the City—"Our Bridge"—Rivalry with Chicago—Diseased Meat vs. Putrid Water—Radical Progression.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, June 23, 1867.

The hot weather is approaching rapidly, and the rainy season is well nigh over. I presume, after having had a surfeit of cool and moist weather, we are now to be scorched, as a punishment for complaining of the rain, and, like the rich man who drove Lazarus from his gate, petition in vain for water.

A denizen of the Iron City who takes a walk through the business portion of Cincinnati on a fine, sunshiny day, will notice the marked contrast between this city and Pittsburgh. One is a manufacturing, and the other a mercantile place. Here the wealthy wholesale merchant endeavors to put up a more costly and superb building than his neighbor. A man who does not transact business in a house with a polished stone front, five stories in heighth, falls in the category of small business men, and ranks with green grocers and apple merchants. But in Pittsburgh extravagant architecture cannot certainly be laid to the charge of business men. Indeed, it would be as absurd as for coal miners to sport white kids and linens, the contaminating blackness of coal dust only being more apparent.

Cincinnati is a city of undoubted commercial wealth, contributed in a great measure during the rebellion, it having been the great supply mart for the Army of the Southwest. Perhaps in no city of the Union have army contractors realized such great wealth, or yielded such manifest business prosperity, as in the Queen City. Pork and clothing merchants reveled in fat contracts, and the latter—for the most part of the Jewish persuasion—amassed colossal fortunes and became the leading men on 'change. A portion of their income they at once devoted to the erection of palatial business blocks and private residences, lending at once a pecuniary attraction to their business houses and adorning their homes like merchant princes, yet keeping their financial standing secure from the possibility of embarrassment.

It is a notable fact that Cincinnatians take a great pride in their city, and to outside barbarians it seems somewhat inflated. To a new comer, the first question invariably is "Have you seen our bridge?" propounded in a manner signifying that the wonders of the Paris Exposition are as nothing in point of interest to this wonderful structure. In your own city of bridges—any one of which is equally important as a connecting link to your business interests, and I doubt not, commanding as great a revenue, although having the misfortune not to be stilted on huge piles of masonry or built with a single span—there is not a tithe, if indeed any of the fulsome vanity exhibited in their praise. Of the bridge itself I may say it is worthy the honest pride alike of the people of Cincinnati and Covington, in which latter place its builder resides.

There is a growing rivalry between Cincinnati and Chicago, and a bitter war has been in progress some time, conducted at long range, between the respective newspaper champions, forcibly reminding a disinterested party of the colloquy between two school boys. Quoth one, "You have no rich uncle, and I have." To which the other triumphantly responded, after a severe mental effort, "Ay, but you have no dead grandmother." That was a poser. Tired of vaunting their respective claims to superiority in point of size and population, they fall back to invidious comparisons. Cincinnati exclaims, "What have you to compare with our great suspension bridge?" Chicago responds, "Our great lake tunnel!" The Queen City charges the Garden City with permitting her inhabitants to be fed on diseased meat, and the latter retaliates with the declaration that Cincinnatians slake their thirst on putrid water, inferentially showing the advantage of a lake tunnel over a suspension bridge. Thus a lively combat is kept up, to the edification of non-combatants, but the point in debate is no nearer settled than it was at the beginning.

The Republican Convention of Ohio, which met at Columbus a few days since, has planted itself firmly and squarely upon the progressive platform of manhood suffrage, determined to "live or die, survive or perish" by the result. This evinces a creditable determination, and Ohio has thus gone one step further in radicalism than Pennsylvania. It seems unfortunate, however, that clinging to the same amendment is a measure, which may have the effect of endangering its vitality—I allude to the disfranchisement of deserters. On the score of policy, the disfranchising clause should have been isolated, or omitted altogether as a compromise for securing the adoption of the suffrage amendment. At all events, the question at issue in this State will be an exciting one, and the friends of the amendment will doubtless work with an untiring zeal for its adoption. The proceedings of the Convention and platform have received the unqualified endorsement of the leading Republican papers in the State. RAD.

Operatives' Strike.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—On Saturday the wages of the workingmen employed in the cotton and woolen mills at Manayunk were reduced about twenty five per cent. To-day the men engaged, and fifteen of the females, refused to go to work at the new rates, consequently operations were stopped until the difficulty is settled.

FROM MEXICO.

Marquez, at City of Mexico, Declares Iturbide Emperor—Liberals Seized as Hostages—Rumors Concerning Maximilian.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, June 24.—By advices received from Queretaro to June 8th, San Luis Potosi to the 11th and Monterey to the 11th, via Galveston, it is reported that as soon as Marquez was assured of the betrayal of Queretaro by Lopez, he proceeded to open certain documents which had been left with him by Maximilian. Among them he found one containing a written abdication, signed by Maximilian in favor of young Iturbide. Marquez thereupon immediately proclaimed Iturbide Emperor of Mexico, under the regency of Empress Carlotta. He also arrested thirty of the most notable Liberals in the capital and imprisoned them as hostages for the safety of the lives of Maximilian and his companions.

As yet there has been no authoritative denial of the authenticity of Maximilian's proclamation, published week before last, and it is still believed to be genuine.

It is stated the counsel for Maximilian had been refused a request for the postponement of the trial for thirty days, that they might have time to prepare a defense. It is also reported the Emperor had been sentenced, and a rumor prevailed that he had been executed, but they can be traced to no good authority.

The Imperial General would only surrender at Queretaro on honorable terms of capitulation, and it is stated the surrender was made in accordance with the established laws and usages of nations.

Martinez, the Liberal General, who agreed to these terms, was placed under arrest, and the arms and munitions of war restored to Aldera. Maximo Campo was not shot, as has been reported, but brutally murdered while lying dangerously wounded in the hospital at Queretaro.

The last report received from the city of Mexico, says Marquez had commenced executing his hostages, two of whom have already been shot; their names were not given. The death of Mendez is confirmed. All foreign prisoners taken by the Liberals, numbering four or five thousand, Austrians, Belgians and Frenchmen, were on their way to Monterey.

INDIAN TROUBLES.

Pacific Railway Laborers Attacked and Driven Off—Better Protection Demanded—Return of Excursionists.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, June 24.—A dispatch from the end of the Kansas Pacific Railway says the Indians have driven the grading parties into Fort Harker; also that two railroad men and two citizens were killed near Bunker Hill, about twenty miles west of Fort Harker, on Saturday, and considerable stock driven off. Efforts are being made to procure arms for the railroad employees, many of whom have already left their work, and it is feared all will leave unless they are better protected. The excursion party from Fort Wallace arrived at Salina to-day. All well.

LAWRENCE, KANSAS, June 24.—The grading parties of the Pacific Railroad for twenty miles west of Bunker Hill were attacked by Kiowa Indians on Saturday. Three men were killed and the remainder driven off. Work on the road is entirely suspended beyond Wilson's Creek, and unless prompt measures are taken by the military, the progress of the road must be greatly retarded. As matters now stand the lives and property of the people on the border are totally unprotected.

Governor Crawford is making an effort to obtain arms and ammunition from the military to arm railroad employees and citizens in disturbed districts.

THE PRESIDENTIAL TRIP.

Movements of the Party—Distinguished Dining Party—Seward and Farragut—Grand Display in Boston—A General Holiday—Imposing Masonic Ceremonies at the Dedication of the New Temple.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, June 24.—Secretary Seward and General Rousseau spent Sunday at Quincy, attending church in the morning, and visiting the old Adams' mansion in the afternoon.

Mr. Seward dined with the Hon. Samuel Hooper, in Boston, in the evening, in company with Senator and Mrs. Sumner, Professor Agassiz, Mr. Longfellow and others.

Mr. Seward yesterday received a telegram from Admiral Farragut, inquiring if the President would like to take a trip down to New York, in the Franklin, just previous to her departure. If not, she would sail on Wednesday morning. He replied:

Do not detain the ship; go on Wednesday, as you propose, and so far as special Executive orders from here are concerned, stand not on the order of your going. Do not glide too often to the masthead, but keep a firm footing on deck, to the end that you may come back from your voyage at the appointed time, in renewed health and vigor, to receive the additional thanks of your countrymen.

[Signed] W. H. SEWARD.

Early this morning the streets were crowded with citizens, and strangers from the surrounding country. It was with the greatest difficulty the many railroads could afford sufficient accommodations.

The city was decked with flags along the route of procession. Every window and doorway and balcony and house top, from which the display could be seen, was occupied at an early hour. The schools, State and Municipal offices, and nearly all places of trade and labor were closed, the people uniting in a general holiday.

The Grand Lodge of Massachusetts assembled at their present apartments, in Summer street, where a procession was formed, and under the escort of the Boston Encampment of Knights Templar proceeded to the new Temple, a beautiful and imposing edifice, seven stories in height, with octagon tower on the south corner, rising twelve feet, and a smaller and less lofty tower at the north corner.

The dedicatory ceremonies commenced at nine o'clock, and in these none excepting Masons participated. President of the United States, Postmaster General Randall, Maj. Gen. Rosseau and Surgeon Basil Norris were present, being members of the fraternity. After the ceremonies closed, the President expressed the sincere and profound gratitude he experienced at being present with the Grand Lodge on this most interesting occasion.

At the conclusion of the President's remarks, the session of the Grand Lodge was terminated. By the time the private ceremonies were concluded, the Masons, who had been forming at the Common, were ready to move in the procession. They joined those who had been engaged in the temple exercises, and now in an unbroken line they proceeded through a number of the principal streets and squares.

The procession consisted of eighteen divisions, and was commanded by William D. Streaton, Grand Marshal.

In addition to the Encampments of this State, were Encampments from Rhode Island, New York, New Hampshire, Maine, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and the District of Columbia, together with Knights from other States. St. John's Lodge of New York, instituted in 1751, carried the old Washington Bible, upon which Washington took his first oath of office as President of the United States. Lodges from Maine, Illinois, New York, Washington and other cities and States were in line, with a strong representation of various organizations in England and British Provinces. It is thought upwards of ten thousand Masons were in procession. Many decorations along the route were of gorgeous character. The President stood much of the time, hat in hand, in acknowledgement of the compliments paid. Boquets were occasionally thrown into the carriage. There was much enthusiasm everywhere, and the only allusion to politics heard was the exclamation, "No impeachment." Many mothers presented their children to the notice of the President, who gave a kind word and, more than once, a kiss to the little ones.

Bostonians say never before was there a time when politics were so successfully excluded from public demonstrations in honor to a public man, and many are glad to have the President among them in order that they may express their respect for him as the Chief Magistrate as his fellow citizens, irrespective of the issues which disturb the country.

Notwithstanding the Masons commenced assembling at eight this morning, it was five o'clock when they completed their marching programme and reached Boston Music Hall, where, after the usual preliminaries before the dense auditory, an oration was delivered by Rev. W. S. Stadley, present Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts. His theme was the origin, morality and offices of Free Masonry.

An original ode was sung, and the ceremonies closed with prayer, doxology and benediction.

The President, with Major General Rosseau and Surgeon Morris, were then escorted to the Egyptian saloon, in the new Masonic Temple, to partake of a banquet.

Before its close, Grand Master Dame said that owing to the fatigue of the day, and in order that the President might withdraw, as he desired, he would now propose a sentiment: "The President of the United States." This was received with a general clapping of hands by the large assemblage, succeeded by nine cheers.

The President, in acknowledging the compliment, made a few remarks. He was greeted with three cheers at the close.

General Rosseau presented a regret from Secretary Seward that he could not be present, a family affliction having for some months prevented his attending public dinners, or such occasions. The President was warmly shaken by the hand by Brother Masons, and subsequently escorted to the hotel, where Ex-President Pierce paid his respects.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 24, 1867.

THE PARIS EXPOSITION AND UNITED STATES EXHIBITORS.

The Department of State has information from Commissioner Beckwith, that of five hundred and twenty-four United States Exhibitors at Paris there have been awards in favor of two hundred and sixty-two. Among these four have been awarded grand prizes, seventeen gold, sixty-two silver, and one hundred and three bronze medals. Seventy-nine American exhibitors were honorably mentioned.

PUBLIC LAND SALES.

Fourteen thousand two hundred and sixty-nine acres of public lands were disposed of at the land offices of Iowa and Michigan, during May. Seventy-four patents, embracing eleven thousand four hundred and eighty-one acres of land in Kansas, on the Pottowatomie Indian reserves; also, eight patents for Winnebago trust lands in Minnesota, embracing one thousand three hundred and twenty acres, were sold to purchasers for the benefit of the Indians.

RE-OPENING OF SOUTHERN POSTOFFICES.

The Postoffice Department to-day ordered the re-opening of fourteen postoffices in the Southern States. The work is progressing steadily and orders for the re-opening of postoffices in that section are issued nearly every day.

BAIL FOR A HOMICIDE REFUSED.

Judge Cuyler, of the Circuit Court, this morning refused to take bail in the case of Henry Johnson, who shot a man named Smoot, on the 20th, for adulterous intimacy with his former wife.

The Opinion of General Stanberry Bringing Forth Evil Fruit—Unearthing of Immense Villainy.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The Tribune's Galveston special says: The opinion of Attorney General Stanberry is already bringing forth evil fruit. The spirit of revolt is strengthening. Major Haviland, who was removed by General Griffin for rebel proclivities, refuses to recognize the military authority.

The unearthing of an immense villainy has begun here. During the war the rebel Legislature ordered a sweeping and complete confiscation of all property, real and personal, held by loyal men. The act was enforced with remorseless vigor. Property valued at more than sixty million dollars was seized and sold. Judge Devine, just pardoned by President Johnson, decreed more than three thousand sales. The rebel records are imperfect and blind, and do not show the names of the purchasers. Immense sums were abstracted by the receivers. The confiscations of Cromwell, in Ireland, do not equal this in extent and cruelty. General Griffin is urged to probe this huge spoliation to the bottom.

From Georgia.

AUGUSTA, GA., June 24.—Registration is progressing quietly. Four hundred and thirty-six persons were registered to-day, of whom two hundred and ninety-six were blacks.

A party of convicts attempted to escape from the penitentiary at Milledgeville. Two were killed and several wounded. The remainder were re-captured.

Harlem Springs, Carrol Co., Ohio.—These springs, in connection with the Rural Seminary buildings, will be opened for visitors and boarders on the first of July. It is not now intended as a place of fashionable resort, but a place suiting the demands of those seeking quiet, health, and a pleasant and inexpensive retreat, free from smoke and dust. The groves are dense, the scenery peculiarly beautiful, and the locality and mineral waters, noted for their health imparting qualities. Visitors from Pittsburgh, Steubenville, Wheeling and Cincinnati, will come via New Market station, on the P. C. & C. R. R., distant by hack from two to three hours. For particulars, address, A. D. LEE, Harlem Springs, Carrol County, Ohio, or call on E. B. GRIFFIN, pastor of the South Pittsburgh M. E. Church. je24:5t*

Temperance Meeting.—The Allegheny Temperance League will meet this evening in the Rev. John McMillan's Church, Sandusky street. An address will be delivered by Thomas T. Ever[illegible] Esq. The choir of the Beyden Lodge of Good Templars will be present and sing several temperance rites.

Meeting of City Councils.

The City Councils held a regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, June 24th.

SELECT BRANCH.

Members present: Messrs. Armstrong, Brown, Coffin, Crawford, Dickson, M'Millan, Morrow, Philips, Rees, Tanner, Thompson, White, Wilson, and McAuley, President.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

The President submitted a petition from Gotleib Hammier, owner of a brewery on Vickroy street, setting forth that he had erected his establishment at considerable expense, and that recently a man named Hutchinson has erected a kiln for drying brick immediately in front of the brewery, and directly across the public street. He asked that Councils take the proper steps to remove the same. Referred to the Street Committee, with instructions to abate the nuisance.

C. C. non-concurred and referred to Street Committee. Select Council recede and concur.

Mr. McAuley (Mr. Brown in the chair) submitted an ordinance regulating the charges of hackmen and drivers of vehicles for conveying passengers through the city, fixing the rates at fifty cents for each passenger and twenty-five cents each for trunks. Read three time and passed. C. C. amended by making the rates fifty cents for passenger and one trunk and twenty five cents for each additional trunk. S. C. receded and concurred.

Mr. Philips presented a petition from the Monongahela Bridge Company and the Birmingham Passenger Railway Company, asking the privilege to alter the grade of Smithfield street near the Monongahela Bridge. Referred to the Street Committee with power to act.

The chair submitted an ordinance for the better government and regulation of the Fire Department. The ordinance provides that when on duty the companies of the Department be under the strict control of the Chief Engineer, or in his absence, the Assistant Engineers in order of rank; that in no case, except to attend fires, shall any of the companies take their apparatus outside of the city limits; and that no company shall go out of service without giving due notice to the Chief Engineer, and obtaining his approbation. Passed to a third reading, and after considerable discussion, the yeas and nays were called and the ordinance passed by a vote of eleven for to one against.

The President read a communication from Mayor McCarthy, relating to the nuisance existing at the Point, in consequence of the defective arrangements for dumping from the carts of the night-soilers the contents of the cess-pools throughout the city, and asking that the same be remedied. Referred to the Chairman of Allegheny and Monongahela Wharf Committees, with power to take such action in the premises as may be necessary to secure the abatement of the nuisance.

Mr. Dickson presented the report of the Gas Light Committee, with a resolution authorizing the erection of four lamps on Washington street, between Webster and Grant, and three on Congress street between Wylie street and Pennsylvania avenue. Report accepted, and the resolution passed to a third reading and adopted.

Mr McMillan submitted a report of the Viewers of Market street Sewer. The entire cost of the sewer was $5,696.37. The total length 436 feet. Report accepted and approved.

Also a resolution appointing A. J. Gribbin as viewer on Virgin alley sewer, in place of James S. Craft.

The following ordinances, passed to a second reading May 27th, were taken up:

Ordinances for grading and paving Carson and Allegheny street, and for opening Greenup street, were read three times and passed.

The ordinance for the grading and paving of Lumber street was postponed.

Mr. Morrow submitted an ordinance changing the grade of the Monongahela wharf, between Smithfield and Grant streets, providing for an appropriation of $12,000 for regrading and paving the same. The ordinance was discussed at considerable length, and the yeas and nays being called on its passage, resulted—yeas, 4; nays, 11; so the ordinance was lost.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the Controller to certify a warrant in favor of J. M. Fullerton, for twenty-seven dollars in full of water rent collected in error.

Mr. McMillan, an ordinance for the opening of Elm street from Bridge to Liberty streets, as laid down in Mrs. Denny's plan of lots. Laid on the table under the ordinance.

Mr. Morrow submitted an ordinance providing that the ordinance heretofore passed, allowing an abatement of twenty-five per cent. on all steamboats making weekly trips, should apply and be extended to the Allegheny wharf.

COMMON COUNCIL.

Members present—Messrs. Beck, Brush, Coursin, Ford, Hare, Hemphill, House, Jones, Mawhinney, McQuewan, McClelland, McCowan, O'Neill, Reed, Eoberts, Robb, Seibert, Sloan, Tomlinson, Torley, Verner, Weldon, Welsh, and President Steel.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mr. McQuewan presented a communication from John McCargo, Esq., City Controller, covering sundry bills. The communication was accepted and warrants ordered to be drawn on the Treasurer for the several amounts.

Mr. Hare offered an ordinance providing for the branding of boxes in which berries are sold in the public markets. The ordinance was read three times and finally passed.

Mr. McGowan offered a resolution directing the City Controller to certify his warrant on the Treasurer in favor of Mr. John Bauss, for ten dollars, the amount of water tax for 1866 overpaid by him. Referred to Finance Committee with power to act.

Mr. Robb, the following ordinance:

"Be it enacted, &c., That in sewers now in process of construction, or which shall hereafter be constructed, it shall be the duty of the Recording Regulator to cause to be inserted on each side of said sewers, at the distance of every thirty feet, cast iron sleeves of that diameter as shall be directed by the Regulator, and that the cost of said sleeves be added to the costs of construction and paid for as part of the sewers."

The ordinance was read three times and finally passed.

Mr. Ford, from the Sanitary Committee, offered the following resolution; which was adopted.

Resolved, That the sum of one thousand dollars be and is hereby appropriated, to be expended by the Sanitary Committee for securing the best sanitary condition of the city, as occasion may require, and that the same be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Mr. Ford also offered an ordinance making it the duty of persons owning lots fronting upon alleys to keep said alleys properly cleansed, and to have them scraped every Tuesday and Friday. The ordinance also provided for the Lieutenants of the Night Police to see that its provisions were carried out, and allowed them each ten dollars per month as compensation for their services.

Mr. Ford stated that the Street Committee had been laboring for a year past to devise some means by which the alleys could be kept clean, but they had been unable to do so. The Street Commissioners appeared to think that they had no right to interfere, except in cases where the alleys are paved. It was necessary to the continued good health of the city that the alleys should be cleansed at once, and he hoped the ordinance would be passed.

Mr. Welsh moved as an amendment that the Sanitary Committee be empowered to employ a suitable person to carry out the provisions of the ordinance. The amendment was accepted.

The ordinance was amended by Mr. Reed, limiting the compensation of each person so employed to three dollars per day. The ordinance, as amended, was read three times and finally passed.

Mr. McQuewan, a resolution authorizing the Controller to certify a warrant on the Treasurer in favor of Mr. Edward Allen for the sum of $1,663 55, in payment for constructing the sewer on Carson street, in the Ninth ward.

Mr. Robb offered an ordinance providing for a uniform system of sewerage. Read and laid over under the rules.

On motion, adjourned.

Rowdyism in the Ninth Ward.

Last night, between five and six o'clock, John Chafman and Alfred Leston, brothers-in-law and residents of the Ninth ward, went to the house of Joseph Herbster, at the corner of Liberty and Carson streets, and were conducting themselves in an indecent manner, when Herbster requested them to leave his house, whereupon they attacked him and abused him shamefully. They were not satisfied with this, however, but abused his house and furniture, breaking chairs, glassware, crockery, &c. Herbster came to the Mayor's office and made an information against them, charging them with assault and battery. A warrant was issued, and officers Rivers, Dressler, Strain and Cupples started in pursuit of the offenders. Strain and Cupples succeeded in arresting Chatman and Leston between six and seven o'clock last evening, but Chafman managed to give them the slip and escaped, but only for a short time, as he was picked up at his home, in the upper end of the Ninth ward, about twelve o'clock last night, by officers Rivers and Dressler and lodged in the lock-up, where his worthy brother-in-law had preceded him, to await a hearing this morning.

St. Clair Church Strawberry Festival.

The congregation of St. Clair Church, Rev. J. C. Boyd, pastor, in Scott township, have arranged for a Strawberry Festival, to be given in the church edifice on Thursday afternoon and evening next, on which occasion a most pleasant entertainment will be afforded. The church is located near a beautiful [illegible], and with fine weather and good roads, a large number of country folk with a goodly number of town people are expected to assemble, for a day of healthful recreation. Aside from refreshments and floral attractions, addresses will be delivered by able clerical gentlemen.

A Monstrous Amphitheatre.

The managers of the Grand National Festival, which will take place at Union Skating Park, commencing July 4th, have had erected substantial seats around three sides of the enclosure, and have made other suitable arrangements for the comfort and convenience of the thousands who will participate in the celebration. As the glorious anniversary approaches the excitement relative to the Grand Festival increases, and all who can are securing their tickets at the office, 74 Fifth street, where the prizes are on exhibition.

River News.—The steamer Belle will leave this day at 12 m., positively. We recommend the Belle to shippers and passengers as a first class boat, and we know that Capt. Loughrey and Jack Chambers will do the courtesies of the office with their usual urbanity. This is the only boat leaving this port until a rise. Capt. Loughrey will take with him several barges and thus insure freight being carried through.

The Goldrich Homicide Case—A New Phase on the Matter—The Pistol Found.

The circumstances attendant upon the killing by a pistol shot of James Goldrich, of Allegheny city, must be fresh in the minds of our readers. On Monday evening, June 10th, about four o'clock, McFarland and deceased, who were on intimate terms, attended a pic nic on Troy Hill, and when the pic nic had broken up they visited several beer gardens in that locality, where they remained until after eight o'clock, when they started for home. On reaching the corner of Ohio street and East Lane, Goldrich proposed to McFarland that they should go to Kellar's, who keeps a wholesale and retail liquor and grocery store, on the corner of East Lane and Ohio street, and get a drink. McFarland accepted the invitation, and the two crossed the street and entered the store, where several men were seated. Mr. Kellar, the proprietor, was not in the store when they came in, having gone to the cellar to get some wine for his friends, and McFarland, addressing himself to a nephew of Mr. K's, asked for some liquor, which was refused him. At this time Mr. K came up from the cellar, and seeing McFarland and the deceased in the room, asked them what they wanted there, when McFarland replied that it was none of his business; then Mr. Kellar stepped up to him and took hold of his coat and requested him to leave the house, which McFarland refused to do, and a fight ensued, McFarland striking Kellar on the head, and he was then struck by young Kellar, the nephew, two or three times, after which he retreated to the door. About this time the deceased had caught the elder Mr. K. by the hair and was pulling him down when a shot was fired, and entered the head of the deceased, just back of the left ear, passing through in a direct line with the right ear, lodging in the inside of the skull. McFarland then started to run and was pursued by Mr. Kellar and caught and brought back to the house where Goldrich was lying. He was then taken in charge by officer Charles Wessell, of the night watch. He refused to go with Wessell, when he (Wessell) called for assistance, and he was taken to the lock-up. A short time after the shot was fired, Dr. J. P. Alcorn was called, and upon making an examination of the wound, he pronounced it fatal. The injured man was removed to the residence of his parents, where he died about two o'clock the next morning.

At the Coroner's investigation the jury were sorely puzzled to discover who had fired the fatal shot. No pistol was found on McFarland or about the premises, and the matter was involved in deep mystery. The circumstances of the case pointed strongly towards Victor Kellar as the perpetrator of the murder, as he was seen to go out of a back door immediately after the firing. The jury accordingly found a verdict to the effect that either Victor Kellar or James McFarland caused the death of young Goldrich. Both were arrested and are now in the jail. Yesterday the matter came up before the Grand Jury, and as it was in no good shape for action, Assistant District Attorney Riddell gave orders to officer John Rigley and Coroner Clawson to make search for the missing pistol in the cess-pool attached to the dwelling of Dennis Kellar, in the back yard of the premises, where the murder was perpetrated.

These officers last night procured the services of night soilers and proceeded to their important search. The soilers had hardly been ten minutes at work till they found a nearly new Smith & Wesson six-shooter, with five cartridges undischarged and one missing. This certainly was the weapon with which the homicide was committed, and now the question arises who put it there? It changes the entire aspect of the case, but it is with a jury to determine who is the guilty party, and we do not choose to say anything now on the subject. If the ownership of the pistol can be established, the entire mystery will be solved by its discovery. The Grand Jury will take action on the bills against the prisoners to-day.

The Pittsburgh Female College—The Reading Contest.

Last night another large and intelligent audience assembled at the Chapel of the Pittsburgh Female College, on the occasion of the reading contest for the Davidson Prize. Some ten young ladies participated, each reading in very excellent manner choice poetical selections. The scholars gave evidence of thorough knowledge of perfect elocution, and read with remarkable force and spirit. One young lady—"No. 5" as the programme styled her—is afflicted with a serious impediment in her speech, but read a selection from "Hiawatha" in a really artistic and beautiful manner, going to show the high order of training she had received in the College. The prize was borne off by Miss Louisa Pershing, of Johnstown, Pa. She is the possessor of a voice of which Anna Dickinson would be proud, and has it under perfect control, reading with ease, grace, and uncommon elocutionary flourish. While our sympathies were with "No. 5," we believe the prize was rightly awarded to Miss Pershing. The other young ladies were equally worthy of special mention, but the programme only gave numbers, and we cannot individualize. Rev. J. S. Dickerson, chairman of the Committee on Award, in a few eloquent and impressive remarks, bestowed the prize, an elegant silver cup, on the fortunate contestant, after which the audience was dismissed. The musical part of the programme was very excellent, indeed, if possible, superior to that offered at the musical contest.

This evening, at Christ's Church, the annual address will be delivered by Rev. Dr. R. S. Foster, an eloquent pulpit orator, of New York city. A rare intellectual treat may safely be anticipated, and doubtless every seat of the commodious church will be occupied.

The Examinations for Admittance into the Central High School.

The examination of pupils of the Ward Public Schools, for admission into the Central High School, commenced yesterday in the class rooms of the High School on Smithfield street. One hundred and forty-nine applicants made their appearance, the majority of them girls. The examination is conducted in a fair and impartial manner by the Faculty of the High School under the direction of Prof. Philotus Dean, the accomplished principal. Each applicant is furnished with a card bearing a number which answers for the identity of the individual throughout the examination, as no names are given. This wise rule prevents the possibility of favor being shown to any applicant, and also relieves the examiners from the suspicion of unfairness. The questions are selected with great care and are sufficiently difficult to test the scholarly attainments of the applicants in the most effective manner. They are printed on slips of paper and distributed amongst the scholars, and adequate time is allotted for each study. The answers are written in full by the applicant, and signed with his number and delivered to the examiners. Of course, through fright and nervousness, many of the young folks fail to pass, but as a general rule the test of scholarships is very fair and satisfactory. The examination will be continued to-day, and the announcement of successful candidates will be made public within a few days.

Killed by Falling Out of a Window—Coroner's Inquest.

William Richey, boarding with his sister, Mrs. Speer, at No. 30 Third street, met with a violent death some time during Sunday night, which was the subject of inquiry before an inquest held (in the absence of Coroner Clawson) by Alderman James Irwin, on Monday forenoon. Richey had been in bad health for some days, the result of intemperance, and his mind was considered somewhat impaired. About ten o'clock on Sunday evening, after partaking of light food, he retired to his room in the third story of the house. At four o'clock Monday morning, some of the family, on going to his room, discovered he was not there, whereupon search was made, and about an hour later he was discovered lying dead in a back yard or court, alongside the house, in a position which indicated that after leaving his room he went to a window at the head of the stairway, in the rear of the second story, climbed through it to a shed beneath, from which he fell, perhaps in attempting to descend. The back of his head was crushed in by coming in contact with a stone. Persons living in the vicinity heard moanings about half past two o'clock, and this fact indicated at about what time he fell. Deceased was about forty-five years of age, unmarried, and a paper hanger and plasterer by occupation. The jury found that William Richey came to his death, &c., "by falling out of a window."

Scientific.

The art of diagnosing disease by the simple inspection of the urine has been practiced by many medical men; but the attention of the medical world has lately been called to the subject more by the valuable scientific treatises of Prof. Oldshue, M. D., of Pittsburgh, Pa. He has demonstrated beyond a doubt, that by close ocular examination, scientific chemical analysis, and correct microscopic observations of urinary deposits, a most important auxiliary to correct diagnosis is to be attained in nearly every disease. And so well has he maintained this view, both by theory and by its practical application in the numerous cases that have been presented to him, that his office is one constant throng of patients. He makes the most critical examination of every case, and however complicated may be the disease, seldom or never fails to render satisfaction, when a reasonable hope can be entertained. Scientific knowledge thus practically applied, must render more definite and intelligible this peculiar branch, and from what we know of the man and his extensive practice, we would recommend those wishing medical aid to call on him.

A First Class Livery Stable.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement, in another column, of Mr. Edward Czarniecki, proprietor of the popular Golden Horse Livery Stable, corner of First and Middle streets, Allegheny, and office No. 244 Ohio street. These stables are stocked with as good horseflesh and handsome turnouts as can be found at any similar place in the State. A full number of quiet horses for family driving, which can safely be depended upon, always ready for customers. Mr. Czarniecki has long been engaged in the business, and has ever borne the highest reputation. He attends to all the solemn details of undertaking in a first class manner, and will supply carriages and hearses for funerals at the slightest notice. A full and carefully selected stock of funeral furnishing goods kept constantly on hand. We cheerfully commend this livery and undertaking establishment to the patronage of our readers, knowing both branches of the business to be conducted in a manner which cannot fail proving satisfactory.

Cold Sparkling Soda Water at J. T. Sample's Drug Store, No. 38 Federal street, Allegheny.

We Notice that our fellow citizen C. D. Brigham, editor in chief of the Pittsburgh Commercial, pays a handsome tribute to the skill and ability of Dr. E. S. Aborn, 134 Smithfield street, the distinguished surgeon and physician who is now temporarily sojourning in this city. The Doctor has treated successfully a member of Mr. Brigham's family in a case which had resisted all ordinary treatment, and that gentleman is pleased to make public the fact, and to commend Dr. Aborn to the confidence of the general community.

A Stabbing Affray of quite a serious character occurred at a drinking house in Allegheny, on Sunday night. The wounded man was brought to the office of Dr. E. S. Aborn, the distinguished surgeon who is now briefly sojourning in our city, and had his wounds carefully attended to. Under the excellent treatment received at the hands of Dr. Aborn, the wounded man will recover. No information has been made in the case.

Sculling Match.—We understand that a match for a "pull" of three miles has been arranged between young Kaye, and Jackson, for a purse of five hundred dollars, to come off over the Allegheny course, Saturday, the third of August. A forfeit of fifty dollars was put up yesterday, and the balance will be forthcoming during the present week.

The Pedestrian Contest.—The foot-race at Oakland Park yesterday afternoon, between Johnny Newell and Frank Wunderlich, for one hundred dollars a side, resulted in favor of Newell. In the first one hundred yards Wunderlich had the advantage, but after that he broke down, and Newell had it all to himself.

The Late County Convention.

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE:—The late County Convention has made its nominations, and though the result is different from what some would have it, yet the people have subsided into their accustomed quietude. This is as it should be. This is a beautiful characteristic of the American people, or rather of the people of the loyal States. However high political rancor may run, or however wide the chasm that may divide parties prior to an election, or nominating convention, just so soon as the result is announced in a regular and authoritative manner, just so soon political strife ceases. This was the grand mistake made by the late Confederate States, but it is not of this we propose to speak. We note another characteristic of the people, and it is this: Before the late Convention there were soldiers and citizens competitors for the same honors, and we are pleased to notice that the Convention was true to the plighted faith of the people, and honored those who dared the blow and grappled with rebellion. This is, also, as it should be, and by it we are reminded that the people of this county are true to themselves and the pledges they gave when treason and rebellion aimed a death blow at the heart of the nation. By revering those who have done their duty well in our great struggle for national existence, and have again returned to civil life, you honor their dead companions, who, by thousands, fell, and will return no more.

I know there are those who say the soldier is played out. But they are few and far between. I know, too, it is said, there are those who staid at home—who did as much as those who were in active service, by giving of their means, encouraging enlistment, &c. Now it is not our purpose to disparage the good that any may have done, for it was all needed, and contributed to the grand result. We accord to every man his proper meed of honor, whether earned in the field or at home. But we may be allowed to say that no sacrifice at home will compensate for the hazards of war. In the home service there was no hazard of life or limb. There was no forsaking of the sweets of home and social bliss for the rude life of the camp. No forsaking of the cheerful fireside and warm apartments for the cheerless and gloomy bivouac on the bleak plains of Virginia in mid winter. But we will pursue this thought no further. We know the people will not forget those who stood by them when armed treason threatened to sack their cities, destroy the products of their fields and erect the standard of rebellion upon the ruins. UNION.

Heading off the President Again.

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE:—Every knave making or hoping to make "a good thing" out of the Government, either within the Democratic party, or waiting to go there on the first indication of making it a "success," is again bawling himself hoarse at the coming July session of Congress, to repeat its former folly of "Heading Off the President," just as though such a bull-headed animal would either be or stay headed off by any fence that Congress can put up. No man outside of the "D— P—" family had any confidence in the former experiment in that line, but there were so many distant relatives of that family, in Congress and out, that nothing short of a trial would satisfy even the most intelligent of them, and they are already pointing to the thermometer as a reason why Congress should not proceed to fool-mate itself again. I trust it will have more self-respect hereafter. It promised to take the "straight chute" if the President failed to carry out its "reconstruction measures" in good faith. It admitted that such unfaithfulness would be good cause of impeachment in and of itself. Will it adhere? or will it, by failure, admit the justness of the Stanberry quibbles! Will Congress and the people now, at this late hour, open their eyes to the fact that no act of Congress is beyond the reach of determined quibblers? If not, then go on to the bitter end at the cost of countless millions. "EARNEST."

LOTS FOR SALE IN TARENTUM, AND NEAR IT.—Tarentum is situated on the west bank of the Allegheny river, 21 miles above the City of Pittsburgh. The lots are generally in size 50 feet front and 15 deep, from street to alley; and also of 4 to 8 acres near the Borough and the Soda Works, well adapted for country residences, being rich soil, well watered, and commanding a beautiful and extensive view of the river and surrounding country. Persons desirous of starting manufacturing establishments, such as rolling mills, woolen factories, paper mills, &c., would find the location, near the river or railroad, admirably suited for such purposes. Capitalists will be encouraged to purchase by moderate prices and easy terms, as it is intended that the superior advantages of the place—as to abundant supply of water, coal, limestone, &c., and railroad and river facilities—shall be liberally offered for manufacturing purposes generally.

Trains on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad pass to and from Tarentum, east and west, several times daily. For a map or survey of the lots apply to Hon. H. M. BRACKENRIDGE, at his residence near the Soda Works, or J. N. FURVIANCE, Tarentum.

DEVLIN & SILL, Real Estate and Insurance Agents, Butler St., Lawrenceville, Pa.

FOR SALE—MANUFACTURING SITE.—To MANUFACTURERS: We offer for sale the best and most desirable site for Rolling Mill and Blast Furnace, or for any large manufacturing purposes, in the county. This property is located on a 40 foot street and the Allegheny river, and within 100 feet of the A. V. R. R. The lot is [illegible]. Persons desiring such a lot would do well to examine before buying elsewhere. Terms made to suit purchasers. Enquire of DEVLIN & SILL, Real Estate and Insurance Agents, Butler street, Lawrenceville.

FOR SALE—That very valuable and desirable property situate on Rebecca street and the Allegheny river, in Allegheny city; 100 by 427 feet, on which is erected a very substantial Brick Building, five stories high, 100x120 feet, calculated and well adapted for carrying on almost any branch of manufacturing. It is seldom a lot of these dimensions, within the city, can be had, and we would invite the special attention of those desirous of securing a place for manufacturing purposes to call at the office of DEVLIN & SILL, Real Estate and Insurance Agents, Butler street, Lawrenceville.

A SUMMER SESSION.

It is now evident that Congress exercised an admirable forethought in providing for a Summer Session, to commence on Wednesday the third day of July next. Circumstances have arisen which make such a session indispensable to the due prosecution of the work of Reconstruction, as well as to vindication of the law-making power from encroachments by the Executive Department. Such a session, however, is what the President and his adherents are most anxious to avoid. Mr. STANBERRY's exposition of the Military Government Act was withheld to so late a day as to make a convocation of the Houses inconvenient. Some of the members are in Europe. Others are on the Pacific slope; and some in the Central districts of the continent. After all the delay, the exposition was made public quite too soon for the purpose intended. The session will be held. A quorum will be present. An adjournment will not occur until such supplemental legislation shall be had as the exigency calls for. The opinion of the Attorney General will not be allowed to stand. The authority of the Commanding Generals will not be cancelled; nor will they, so far as relates to the special duty in which they are engaged, be made amenable to the President. The governments of the Southern States must not, and will not be treated as lawful governments until the conditions imposed upon them shall be complied with.

The Democrats already proclaim that a summer session is desired only by a few extremists for the purpose of laying additional burdens on the Southern people; and that the President has done nothing, whatever intentions may be attributed to him, which indicates a design to interfere with the legitimate functions of Congress. These assumptions are altogether unfounded. No rational individual can for a moment doubt that Mr. STANBERRY's opinion is the result of mature consultations on the part of the President and the members of his Cabinet. It was not framed as an experimental essay, simply to see to what extent a line of argumentation could be run in opposition to the law as intended by Congress, and as interpreted by the Generals. It was framed as an essential preliminary to Presidential action; which action it designed to prepare the way for and to justify. In it is nothing intrinsically new. The main features are those of the President's original Policy, delineated under difficulties, by reason of the law of the last session. Besides, the President, in his late Southern progress, made no concealments, but proclaimed, in repeated conversations, his design of doing exactly what the opinion implies.

Congress was content with the course of events at the South. The members were indisposed to a session during the heated term. The necessity was laid on them greatly to their dissatisfaction. If the President had not evinced a disposition to nullify the law by interpretation, the summer session would have been abandoned. Nor is there any reason to suppose Congress will make the action of the President, of which it disapproves, a pretext for laying new and harder conditions on the Southern people. So far as opposition to the terms imposed has been developed at the South, it is fairly imputable to the President. He has stirred up opposition by denouncing the Congressional Plan; by condemning the officers charged with carrying it out; by threatening virtually to abrogate it by expounding it under the bias of his own views; and by holding out a possibility of better conditions through his instrumentality. To punish the Southern people by imputing to them offences of which they are not guilty, or, if guilty, certainly in a secondary degree, would not only be harsh, but unwise. Reconstruction is progressing well, notwithstanding all the efforts to defeat it. Every day discloses new evidence that the movement is not superficial and deceptive. It is radical, and promises to be permanent. In this view of the case, it seems to us impolitic for Congress to change the essential features of the Reconstruction law. Let it be expounded, if need be, by a Supplemental Act, so as to defy the perverse ingenuity alike of Mr. STANBERRY and Mr. SEWARD, and of all other persons. Let Congress deal with the President as shall be judged best. But do not postpone the work of restoring peace and harmony to the nation because the President is obstinate, opinionated, untrue, corrupt, or anything else. To re open the debate on Reconstruction, under existing circumstances, would be productive of no compensating political results, and would be seriously damaging to all business interests, the country over.

FROM time to time startling evidence is afforded of the intensity of the antagonism between Catholic and Protestant. Recent tumultuous demonstrations in England fall into this category. Three hundred years have not sufficed to allay the bitterness of the old feud. The lamentable outburst at Birmingham seems to have been engendered by the tendency to ritualism developed in the Established Church. It gives token of what may be expected if that tendency shall not be checked. The masses of the English people are no more inclined to Catholicism now than in the days of Queen Elizabeth. Whatever progress may have been made in drawing the Protestant communions together, either by adopting a common platform, or by subordinating differences to the higher duty and utility of Christianity, no substantial results have been wrought out towards reconciling Protestants with the Papal Church. What effect this display of popular indignation will have on the ritualists of the establishment, may reasonably be a matter of conjecture; as it will certainly create surprise on the part of superficial observers that opposition to ritualistic leaning in the Episcopal Church should lead to an assault, not upon it, but upon the Catholic Church.

◆

UNDER the Reconstruction Act the work of restoring the Union is progressing admirably. A few months more will suffice to complete the whole job, to the equal satisfaction of all men who stood by the government during the war and of all men who participated in the rebellion but are now ready to submit to the national will. Why can't the President see the propriety of keeping his hands off, and of allowing the movement to go on to its consummation? Why stir up fresh contention, when solid and lasting peace is so near? Does the President esteem the way an end is reached of more consequence than the end itself?

◆

THE old political leaders of Virginia profess great discouragement from the fact that the Republicans are likely to carry the State. Business men, however, do not indulge in sombre forbodings because that result is probable. They are organizing with a view to directing immigration from Europe towards the agricultural and mineral resources of that Commonwealth, and evidently feel that a new and brighter career is opening for them.

◆

THE leaders of the movement for the Confederation of the British North American Provinces, are already familiarizing the people with the idea of Independence as the natural consequence of the steps already taken.

IN ALABAMA, a few days since, Mr. Robert McKnight, the oldest printer in the United States, passed from earth to eternity. He was born in 1778, and spent seventy-eight years at the case.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

Farm Items.

An Agricultural Society has been organized in Nebraska.

The handsomest prairie flowers we ever saw grew on an apple tree.

The best way to wash sheep is to give three little swims—one an hour.

The black locust has been tried through the whole West, and it will not do. The borer kills it.

The best way to fight insects is to have rich ground, for then plants will grow faster than the enemy can eat.

Commence now to sow corn to feed cows in August and September. Sow through every week in June, and in drills, three feet apart.

In Florida a dairy of forty cows yields twenty quarts of milk, or a pint each. You see they can only catch a part of the cows at a time.

Some of the best butter now going to New York city is from Northern Illinois and from Wisconsin. Western butter used to be greese.

Horticulture and farming never will take a high stand in America till we utterly and forever cut loose from European methods and ideas.

Clover is to farming what faith is to religion. One may go through the whole list of manures and good works, but must come to clover faith at last.

In some parts of Iowa the pigeons are so thick that unless the grain is covered as soon as sown they will eat it up. To kill fifty or a hundred thousand does no good.

Currants will not grow in any Southern State. One can get rich by planting five acres of the Versailles or cherry currant. Have rich ground, cultivate well, pick and can green.

Soiling vs Pasturing.

I suppose, Mr. Editor, that one prominent idea of your paper is to adapt the method of farming to locality, as applicable to the Connecticut Valley. As an exemplification of what I think ought to be done, let me recite the experience and practice of a friend of mine. Coming in possession of about nine acres of land, in the neighborhood of a good market, made by the demands of a large literary institution, he cast about as to what was to be done. Two cows and a horse was the stock in trade, for neat cattle. He was obliged to pay per season, men for pasturage, what they thought it was worth, and at the same time it was no small labor to drive his cows back and forth. That determined him to keep his cows in the barn. The greatest trouble was the rapid accumulation of manure. By good husbandry he properly secured that, he kept feeding it to his crops. Finding his crops increasing, he added another cow. Another cow only made more manure. More manure husbanded in the same way made more crops, and the third year he added another cow. Now began another serious difficulty. His barn was too small. Still, at the end of the fourth year he put in another cow, and set himself to work to get up a new barn, and when I last saw him he had a new barn with modern improvements, of good size, a horse, a pair of cattle, and five cows, and yet had not thought of buying more land, but wanted one more cow. Now people who do not want a large accumulation of manure, and a gradual increase of crops, should not adopt that style. But it seems to me that in our valley towns, where homesteads are in small lots and not easily procured, no better course could be pursued than soiling the cows and at the same time, fatten the soil.—New England Homestead.

Gardening for Women.

There is nothing better for wives and daughters, physically, than to have the care of a garden—a flower plot, if nothing more. What is pleasanter than to spend a portion of every passing day working among plants, and watching the growth of shrubs, and trees, and plants, and to observe the opening of flowers, from week to week, as the season advances? Then, how much it adds to the enjoyment to know that your own hands have planted and tilled them! This is a pleasure that requires no great riches nor profound knowledge. The humble cottage of the laboring poor, not less then their grounds, may be adorned with pot-plants, which in due time will become redolent of rich perfume, not less than radiant with beauty—thus ministering to the love of the beautiful in nature.

The wife and daughter who loves home, and would seek ever to make it the best place for husband and brother, is willing to forego some gossiping morning calls for the sake of having leisure for the cultivation of plants, and shrubs, and flowers. The good housewife is early among the plants and flowers, as is the husband at his place of business. They are both utilitarians, the one it may be in the abstract, and the other in the concrete, each as essential to the enjoyment of the other as are the real and ideal in human life.

The lowest utilitarianism would labor only for the meat that perisheth. Those of higher and nobler views would labor with no less assiduity for the substantial things which elevate and refine the mind and exalt the soul.

The advantage which woman personally derives from stirring the soil and snuffing the morning air, are freshness and beauty of cheek and brightness of eye, cheerfulness of temper, vigor of mind, and purity of heart. Consequently she is more cheerful and lovely as a daughter, more dignified and womanly as a sister, and more attractive and confiding as a wife.—Exchange.

Pretty Poor Practices.

"Cosmos," who edits the rural column of the Saturday Evening Post, thus enumerates a list of pretty poor practices:

It is pretty poor practice for a farmer to dig and delve, tug and grub, and clear up fifty acres of land at a cost of $2,000, and then in the third year surrender about a fifth of it to the briars, brambles and ox-eye daisies.

Poor practice to half manure, half plow, half seed and half cultivate a field, and then harvest from it less than half a crop.

To keep two inferior, scrawny, scrub cows for dairy purposes, that give less milk than one good one, and consume more food than three.

To purchase in town 500 loads of livery stable manure, and suffer 600 of better home made manure to run to waste.

To attempt to fatten three hogs into 1200 pounds of pork on just as much feed as would keep two nicely growing.

To estimate agricultural fairs as arrant humbugs, and spend three days every month saving the country at political meetings.

To depend upon borrowing your neighbors' rakes, mowers, and all sorts of implements in haying and harvest time.

To house up a thousand bushels of grain, waiting for a rise, till one-tenth has gone to feed rats and mice, and the remainder smells like the essence of rat, and the price is down 40 per cent.

To plant out a big orchard of choice fruit trees with a first thought of money-making, and leave them to do or die.

To keep two fancy five hundred dollar carriage horses, and pay six dollars a day for a team to plow.

It is positively a poor practice to call "book larnin" all bosh, to ignore news and agricultural papers, and attempt to keep up an even yoke with your progressive neighbors by main strength and stupidness.

FRENCH METHOD OF RAISING TOMATOES.—As soon as a cluster of flowers is visible, the stem is topped down to the cluster, so that the flowers terminate the stem. The effect is that the sap is immediately impelled into the two buds next below the cluster, which soon push strongly and produce another of flowers each. When these are visible, the branch to which they belong is also topped down to their level, and this is done five times successively. By this means the plants become stout, dwarf bushes, not above eighteen inches high. In order not to prevent their falling over, sticks or strings are stretched horizontally along the rows, so as to keep the plants erect. In addition to this, all the laterals that have no flowers, and after the fifth topping, all laterals whatsoever are nipped off. In this way the ripe sap is directed into the fruit, which acquires a beauty, size and excellence unattainable by other means.

THE WEEDS.—At this period the growing season shows rapid development in all kinds of plants. Noxious weeds make gigantic strides to outstrip useful plants. Weeding growing crops of almost every kind constitute one of the prominent employments of both the farm and garden during this month. Almost everything requires weeding. Whether the soil be dry or saturated with water, something may be done towards exterminating weeds. When rain and lowery weather prevent tilling the soil, let daisies, Canada thistles and dock be mowed, cutting the stem close to the ground, or let them be pulled, having leather mittens to protect the hands; or let them be cut up with hand hoes. When weeds are about eight to twelve inches in height, pulling or cutting them up at the roots will retard their growth amazingly.

LITTLE NEGLECTS DESTROY FARM PROFITS.—By neglecting to lock the stable door, the horse was stolen; by leaving a lot of old rubbish in the barn yard, the colt broke his leg and another got a nail in his foot; in neglecting to spend half an hour in battening up the sheepfold, a pair of twin lambs froze to death; by carelessly tying the bull, the ox was gored and died; by neglecting to kill the ticks on the sheep, and lice on the cattle, the sheep became poor, shed their wool, gave no milk, and the lambs died, and a fine stock of cattle in high condition when they came to stall, lost all their flesh before spring, some were helped up by the tail and survived, while others were snaked off by the neck, a sort of retributive justice to their owners; always attached in some way to human transgression.—Vermont Farmer.

THE ARMY WORM.—In Niagara county, Western New York, the army worm is committing dreadful ravages among the orchards. In places, the whole population turns out to do battle to save their fruit and gardens. They attack a tree in such numbers as to cover the leaves and fruit, which they utterly destroy. If the trunk of a tree is covered with tarred paper they cannot ascend it, and they start for another orchard. It is doubtful whether this is the real army worm of the South, but it is probably the caterpillar of New England. If it is the army worm its progress can be stopped by plowing furrows and then digging ditches eight inches deep with straight sides. Into this they will crawl, and only with great difficulty can they get out. Then strew straw over them, set it on fire, and their day is done.

THE FRUIT TREES.—Fruit trees of all kinds require attention during the present month. There is such a vast horde of enemies ready to devour our fruit, from the time the first blossom appears until the crop is ripe, that the person who raises fruit must labor for it. Unremitting vigilance is the price now paid for all kinds of fruit, except in very few localities. An incessant war of extermination must be waged against worms and bugs. Caterpillars should be destroyed; and there is no more expeditious way of performing the task than to crush them with the hands covered with leather mittens. A man or boy, employed only one hour every morning, for two weeks, will save a large crop of apples.

DOCKING LAMBS.—The sheep which carries a natural tail, or only half a one, is very certain not to take that care of it in regard to cleanliness, which it ought; on the contrary, it is often seen with large accumulations of dung attached to it, and presenting anything but a tasteful aspect. But the sheep is not to be blamed for this, for, unlike other domestic animals, it can and does void its excrements in a lying posture, and a huge tail will not be removed on such occasions without an extraordinary effort. Hence it is that concretions of dung are formed, which attract the maggot fly, and unless a timely discovery is made by the master, the sheep dies a horrible death. Thus the life of an animal is jeopardized, and, therefore, is it not humane to deprive it of so poisonous an appendage?—Morrill's American Shepherd.

THE CURCULIO.—American pomologists, with all their wisdom, have not been able to devise a better method for preventing the ravages of the curculio among plums and sweet cherries than to destroy the destructive "turk," by spreading a large sheet beneath every fruit tree in the morning, and jarring the tree by a smart blow with a hammer or axe. To prevent bruising the body of the tree a branch may be sawed off, or an iron pin may be inserted in the body of the tree for receiving the blow.

TO TETHER COWS.—Milch cows and other animals are frequently tethered where they can graze for an hour or more. Instead of securing them by the neck, let the end of the strap be buckled around the fetlock of one hind leg, and the other end fastened to a stake in the ground. When tethered in this manner they seldom become tangled in the rope with which they are bound. A rope or strap, twenty feet long, will often enable a person to keep a cow or horse where there are no fences.

A DECOCTION of the leaves of common chamomile will destroy every species of insect, and nothing contributes so much to the health of a garden as a number of chamomile plants dispersed through it. No green house or hot-house should be without it, in a green or dried state; either the flowers or stalks will answer. It is a singular fact, that if a plant is drooping and apparently dying, in nine cases out of ten it will recover if you plant chamomile near it.

NO NAME.

Many, many people, suffer from they know not what. They are not sick—they are not well. There is no name for it. It is simply weakness—a breaking down of the vital forces. Whatever its causes, (and they are innumerable,) its symptoms are in the main the same. Among the most prominent are extreme lassitude, loss of appetite, loss of flesh and great mental depression. Indigestion and a Stomach Cough are also frequently concomitants of this distressing state of body and mind. The common remark in relation to persons in such a condition is, that they are consumptive. Now, what these unfortunates really want is vigor, vital strength; and, as certainly as dawn succeeds darkness, they can recuperate their systems and regain perfect health by resorting to HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED BITTERS. It is as clear that a life-reviving tonic is required in such cases, as that the dying flame of an empty lamp requires to be revived with a new supply of oil. Perfectly pure and innocuous, containing nothing but the most genial vegetable extracts, and combining the three grand elements of a stomachic, an alterative, and a genial invigorant, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are suitable to all constitutions, and are as applicable to the diseases and disabilities of the feebler sex as to those of men.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnue, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhœa, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5.

Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine store, 140 Wood street. ap20

RAIL ROAD CO.

Are now constructing a Railroad from OMAHA, NEBRASKA, westward towards the Pacific Ocean, making, with its connections, an unbroken line

ACROSS THE CONTINENT.

The Company now offer a limited amount of their

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

Having thirty years to run, and bearing annual interest, payable on the first day of January and July, in the City of New York, at the rate of

SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD,

At Ninety Cents on the Dollar.

This road was completed from Omaha 305 miles west on the 1st of January, 1867, and is fully equipped, and trains are regularly running over it. The Company has now on hand sufficient iron, ties, etc., to finish the remaining portion to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, 212 miles, which is under contract to be done September 1st of this year, and it is expected that the entire road will be in running order from Omaha to its western connection with the Central Pacific, now being rapidly built eastward from Sacramento, Cal., during 1870.

Means of the Company.

Estimating the distance to be built by the Union Pacific to be 1,565 miles, the United States Government issues it Six per cent. Thirty year Bonds to the Company as the road is finished at the average rate of about $28,250 per mile, amounting to $44,208,000.

The Company is also permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an equal amount, and at the same time, which BY SPECIAL ACT OF CONGRESS ARE MADE A FIRST MORTGAGE ON THE ENTIRE LINE, the bonds of the United States being subordinate to them.

The Government makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, amounting to 20,032,000 acres, estimated to be worth $30,000,000, making the total resources, exclusive of the capital, $118,416,000; but the full value of the lands cannot now be realized.

The authorized Capital Stock of the Company is one hundred million dollars, of which five millions have already been paid in, and of which it is not supposed that more than twenty-five millions at most will be required.

The cost of the road is estimated by competent engineers to be about one hundred million dollars, exclusive of equipment.

Prospects for Business.

The railroad connection between Omaha and the East is now complete, and the earnings of the Union Pacific on the sections already finished, for the month of May, were $261,782. These sectional earnings, as the road progresses, will much more than pay the interest on the Company's bonds, and the through business over the only line of railroad between the Atlantic and Pacific must be immense.

Value and Security of the Bonds.

The Company respectfully submit that the above statement of facts fully demonstrates the security of their Bonds, and as additional proof they would suggest that the Bonds now offered are less than ten million dollars on 517 miles of road, on which over twenty million dollars have already been expended; on 300 miles of this road the cars are now running, and the remaining 187 miles are nearly completed.

At the present rate of premium on gold these bonds pay an annual interest on the present cost of

Nine Per Cent.,

And it is believed that on the completion of the road, like the Government Bonds, they will go above par. The Company intend to sell but a limited amount at the present low rate, and retain the right to advance the price at their option.

AUCTION SALES.

HOUSE OF 16 ROOMS. Lot 50 by 270 feet, and HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE AT AUCTION.—Will be sold, on the premises, on FRIDAY, June 28th, at 10 o'clock, the house and lot on North Canal street, between East lane and Chestnut street, Fourth ward, Allegheny, formerly known as the Judge Warner property, now owned and occupied by Mr. Wm. Stevenson. The house is elegantly and substantially built, contains sixteen rooms, with modern conveniences, gas fixtures, bath with hot and cold water, commodious hall, marble mantles, slate roof, imposing front, outbuildings, iron fences, &c. The lot fronts 50 feet on North Canal street, running back 270 feet to Liberty street; is tastefully arranged and exceedingly attractive in appearance. The adjoining lots being large, with first-class residences, guarantee the neighborhood permanently good, and renders the location exceedingly desirable as a city residence.

TERMS—One-third cash, balance to suit the purchaser.

FURNITURE! FURNITURE!

The entire furniture of twelve rooms in above house will be sold at same time. There are Brussels, Three-ply and Ingrain Carpets; five Marble Top Dressing Bureaus, Sofas, Mirrors, Lace Curtains, Venetian Blinds, Shades, Hat Rack, Secretary, Sideboard, Extension Table, Marble Top Washstands, Wardrobe, Walnut and Mahogany Bedsteads, Tinware, Queensware and Glassware, in great variety.

A very large and attractive sale.
je24 A. LEGGATE, Auct'r.

COUNTRY HOMES AT AUCTION.—The subscriber will offer at Public Sale, on the premises, in Robinson township, on THURSDAY, July 11th, 1867, commencing at 2 o'clock p. m., a splendid variety of BUILDING LOTS, desirable for country homes or for gardening purposes, the whole consisting of thirty acres, divided in o eighteen lots, ranging from one to three acres each. These lots are situated on Chartiers creek, two-and-one-half miles from the city, in a fertile and salubrious valley, and but a short distance from the romantic spot known as McKee's Rocks. They are accessible from the city by the Woods' Run Passenger Railway and Ferry to McKee's Rocks, and by the Pittsburgh & Steubenville Railroad, as well as by the Chartiers & Robinson Township Turnpike.

The position is one of the most healthful and beautiful in the country, and being but a short distance from the city, the opportunity thus offered for obtaining a country home or garden spot is a very rare one.

Any person wishing to see the property before the sale, can do so by calling on the subscriber, near the premises, in Chartiers township.

TERMS—One-third cash at time of sale; balance in one and two years, with interest from date of sale.

THE COURTS

Court of Quarter Sessions.

[FOURTH WEEK.]

This Court met Monday at ten o'clock, Hon. Thomas Mellon on the bench, Col. L. B. Duff, District Attorney.

THE HORSE FALSE PRETENSE CASE.

In the case of George McCombs, tried on Friday last on a charge of obtaining a horse under false pretences, the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty, the prosecutor, Daniel Hilty, to pay the costs. We were a "little previous" in recording the verdict, (except as to the matter of costs,) supposing that it had been rendered at adjournment of Court on Friday evening.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF CASE.

Leo Rowe was arraigned on an indictment for malicious mischief, on oath of Agnes Rowe, his mother. The parties reside in the vicinity of Temperanceville, and it appeared that the defendant, in a fit of temporary derangement, removed his mother's furniture from the house, stating it to be his determination that she should take up her abode elsewhere. The jury, while they believed defendant to be insane, also believed he was not guilty of the charge, and so their verdict was recorded. Another proceeding will be necessary in order to have the man properly cared for.

HE PLEADS GUILTY.

Stephen Stackhouse put in a plea of guilty to the larceny of a copper kettle from Dr. Crononi, in the Fifth ward. Intoxication, he said, was the cause of his offending. The Court sentenced him to undergo one month's imprisonment in the jail, where he has already been confined six months.

ANOTHER CASE OF "SPEEDY JUSTICE."

In yesterday's GAZETTE we gave an account of a most outrageously brutal assault and battery upon a man named Peter Woods, on Sunday afternoon, at the corner of Prospect and Washington streets, by Thomas Sweeney, who, as it was alleged, struck him seven times on the head with a "handy-billy," or other weapon, inflicting very severe injuries. A hearing was had in the case before the Mayor yesterday morning, the accused committed for trial, and the prosecutor appearing before the Grand Jury an indictment was presented by eleven o'clock. Half an hour after the accused was put on his trial before the Court. The prosecutor, Woods, testified that he was forty-one years of age, came to this city four weeks ago from Lawrence, Mass., went to work for a Mr. Knox, and was boarding with Henry Fitzgerald, Walnut street, Fifth Ward. Sunday he took a walk, and getting as far as the steps at Washington and Prospect streets, sat down; had been seated not more than fifteen minutes, when a man approached and struck him seven times, six blows being inflicted on the top of the head, and the seventh in the eye. Soon after the occurrence, Woods having remained on the steps, he was removed by policemen, in a half insensible state, but before taken away Sweeney was arrested and identified by Woods as the person who committed the assault. On the stand, as a witness, Woods repeated his identification, and said he could not be mistaken. Officer Dressler, who made the arrest, testified to finding the prosecutor in a terribly beaten up condition. A large number of people had assembled in the locality, and when the officer had arrested Sweeney the crowd shouted "that's the man."

For the defense no testimony was offered. Some remarks were indulged in concerning the haste with which the prisoner had been placed on trial. Colonel Duff, the District Attorney, said if the prisoner had any defense he had as much of an opportunity to offer it now as he could have again. It was in evidence that the policeman went in search of him, and found him concealed in a house, after it had been denied that he was there. The prosecutor had identified the prisoner, and stated further that he had boarded with him some time previous; therefore they were acquainted. Of the nature of the violence inflicted the jury could themselves judge from the prosecutor's appearance. His face was considerably swollen and bruised, and the entire top of his head covered with the court-plaister dressing of the wounds inflicted. In the absence of any explanation by the prisoner, there could be no doubt entertained of his guilt. The jury found a verdict of guilty.

Hugh Duffy, Esq., counsel for the prisoner, asked that judgment on the verdict be deferred until Saturday next, in order to allow opportunity to procure evidence of good character. Judge Mellon said evidence of this kind would be of little account. If the defendant had a good character, he should be punished for abusing it in the way he seemed to have done. Sentence was deferred until this (Tuesday) morning.

ANOTHER AGGRAVATED ASSAULT AND BATTERY CASE.

Martin McDonald and Patrick Manning were arraigned on an indictment charging them with aggravated assault and battery, on oath of G. W. McCutcheon. The difficulty occurred at the tavern of Pat Dunn, in Ætna, Shaler township. The prosecutor, it seems, while passing the tavern on horseback, was hailed by McDonald, he dismounted, went into the tavern, and was about to take a drink, when an "old grudge" was revived. McCutcheon testified that he was cut in the face and knocked down. Dr. McQuaide, who dressed the injury, testified that it was a wound about four inches in length, extending from the bridge of the nose to the roof of the mouth, and apparently inflicted with a sharp instrument. It did not appear from the testimony that Manning was concerned in the quarrel, or that he took any part. Although the wound indicated that a knife had been used, the evidence for the Commonwealth did not bear out the presumption that the defendant, McCutcheon, had such weapon. Witnesses for the defence said that all the parties were intoxicated, the prosecutor more than the defendants, and that no knife had been used. Blows were exchanged, McCutcheon knocked down, McDonald kicking him in the face as he fell to the floor, and this was all that occurred. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty as to Patrick Manning, and Martin McDonald not guilty of the felony charged, but guilty of unlawfully wounding. Sentence deferred.

FALSE PRETENSE CASE.

Matthew Laughlin was indicted for obtaining goods under false pretenses. The prosecutrix, Mrs. Sarah Pooler, testified that she kept a store in Elizabeth, and that her husband was a coal digger; that in August last the defendant came to the store, got a dollar's worth of flour and other articles, representing that he had seen her husband the night before and that he had told him it was all right, to go to the store and get what he wanted; that she gave Laughlin what he desired, but he did not come back, and it was not "all right," as was ascertained when Mr. Pooler came home. Wm. Pooler, husband of the prosecutrix, testified that he had no such conversation as that represented with the defendant, but on the contrary had told him he could not have credit at the store. There was no defense made, other than the assertion by counsel that the evidence for the Commonwealth, which had not been contradicted, was unworthy of belief. The Court said that if the pretence, upon the faith of which the goods were obtained, was false, it came within the act of Assembly. A mere promise, unfulfilled, could not be considered in the light of a false pretense. Verdict guilty. Prisoner was sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and to fifteen days imprisonment.

STOLE A COAT.

Michael Gallagher was tried for the larceny of a coat from Archibald Austin, of 52 Pike street, on the 25th of March last. The prisoner was found in the possession of the coat when arrested. Verdict guilty. Prisoner said he was from Franklin county, got drunk and got distracted, which caused him to steal. He had been in jail about three months, and the Court sentenced him to remain ten days longer.

LIQUOR CASES.

George Higley, of Natrona, pleaded guilty to selling liquor without license and was sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and costs.

Andrew Sheehan, of the Sixth Ward, was indicted for a like offense, on the return of constable Shore, but put in a plea of not guilty. On trial at adjournment.

◆

The Coroner's Jury empannelled to inquire how and after what manner Harry S. Fink came to his death, met according to adjournment at Mayor Morrison's office, Allegheny, yesterday, at nine o'clock A. M., and after hearing the testimony of several witnesses arrived at the conclusion that the "deceased came to his death from injuries received by being in a wagon which was precipitated over an embankment on the Butler plank road, by the horse taking fright and jumping over." This was noticed in our issue of Tuesday of last week. The facts of the case as stated then were as follows: William Fink, father of the deceased, hired a horse and wagon on Sunday morning, the 16th inst. to take his family to the country, and while on the road the horse took fright, jumped over an embankment ten or fifteen feet high, injuring all in the wagon more or less, and Harry, a little boy about five years of age, so severely that he died of his injuries the next morning. In our notice of the matter last week, we stated that "it was alleged the horse was known to be a vicious one," which was the case. It was alleged at the first hearing, that the horse was a vicious one, but it appears that the party who made the allegation did not know the horse, and it is due to Mr. Czarnaike, the livery stable keeper from whom the horse was hired, to state he testified to the jury the horse was never known to exhibit viciousness on any previous occasion, and that he was considered perfectly safe by him, as he had frequently taken his family out driving behind him.

◆

Having a "Good Time."—Henry Lamison and wife, of the Ninth ward, have been "carrying on" for themselves for some time past at the expense of James L. McKee, who, thinking "forbearance had ceased to be a virtue," made information before Alderman Taylor against Mr. and Mrs. Lamison, charging them with forcible entry and detainer. The facts, so far as we could obtain them, are as follows: Lamison formerly rented a house of McKee, which he occupied for a considerable time without paying rent, and after repeated but unsuccessful efforts to induce him to "pay up," McKee had him and his effects put out of the house, locked it up and took possession of the key. Lamison was not to be beaten this way, however, and on the next Sunday he repaired to the house with his wife, a party of friends, and a supply of edibles and drinkables, broke open the door, took possession, and had a "good time" generally, and in this manner they have been doing for several weeks past. Alderman Taylor issued a warrant for the arrest of the parties.

◆

Mrs. Barney Nease, of Alliance, Ohio, attempted to commit suicide by hanging, one day last week. She went at it very deliberately; sent her children out to play, took a piece of clothes line, tied one end around a rafter of the house and the other around her neck, and then kicked away the chair on which she was standing. The noise attracted the attention of some neighbors, who took her down before she was choked very badly. Trouble with her husband is said to be the cause of her rash act.

◆

Belle, Of Six Mile Ferry.—Belle Brown, alias McAllwa, residing at six mile ferry, behaved in a very unlady like manner on Sunday, and by her evil doings it is very likely will come to "grief." She raised a "muss" with her neighbors and among many other improper doings threatened to kill Mrs. Nicholson, wife of William Nicholson of that place. Mr. N. appeared before Alderman Strain, and made complaint, and a warrant was issued for Belle's arrest for surety of the peace.

◆

Rainbow at Night.—On Sunday morning last, at about two o'clock, a beautiful rainbow was seen in Wellsville, Ohio. This is the first instance of a rainbow by moonlight that has come to our knowledge, although we are informed that one was seen about seventeen years since. The moon was shining at the time and quite a shower of rain was falling.

An Anti-Temperance Society has been formed in Scranton, to oppose the great reform which the Good Templars are carrying on with so much success.

Assault and Battery Cases.

We have several cases under this head to-day in which we were unable to procure the particulars. We give them below so far as obtained:

Thomas Flynn made information before Alderman Taylor yesterday, against Michael King and Ellen Flynn, charging them with having assaulted him without provocation and abused him in a shameful manner. The parties reside on Penn street, in the Fifth ward. Warrant issued.

A. M. Pearson makes information against Stephen Hoffman, charging him with striking his (Pearson's) wife. The parties reside in Lawrenceville. Alderman Taylor issued a warrant for the arrest of Hoffman.

Julia Wanen, who has been figuring conspicuously of late in the police reports, again makes her appearance, but not as defendant, as is usually the case. She appeared before Alderman McMasters yesterday, and lodged an information against Mary Wier, charging her with assault and battery, with a wagon whip. The parties reside in Stanley's Court, and she alleges that while drawing water from the hydrant yesterday morning, Mary came out with a large wagon whip and struck her several blows. She satisfied the Alderman by "ocular demonstration" of the severity of the blows, when he issued a warrant, had Mary arrested and held in the sum of three hundred dollars for her appearance at Court.

◆

Larceny.—Thomas Kerr appeared before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, and lodged an information against John Kelly and John Rodgers, charging them with larceny. The parties reside in Oakland township, and are proprietors of a stone quarry. A few days since Kerr missed a number of his tools, and on passing Rodgers & Kelly's quarry discovered some of them, whereupon he made the information. A warrant was issued, the parties arrested, and held for a hearing this morning at eight o'clock.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—The best Farm in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., containing about 200 acres, situated six miles south of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Bolivar station. The improvements are a large hued log house, with nine rooms, a good cellar; a frame bank barn, 40x70, with the best of stabling. Two apple and one peach orchard. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; the fencing is all No. 1; the soil is good, and is well watered; about 300 acres cleared, the remainder in good white oak timber. This property is offered at the low price of fifty dollars per acre. Possession immediately.

Also, a valuable Garden Farm, containing 69 acres, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, and near Elrod's station, on the Connellsville Railroad, about nineteen miles from the city. The improvements are a two-story brick house with six rooms, hall running through the house, with cellar; a No. 1 barn and other outbuildings. Abundance of the best fruits, of all varieties. Churches, Schools and Mills very convenient. Persons wishing to engage in gardening would do well to call and purchase quickly.

Also, a Farm of 60 acres, situated in West Wheatfield township, Indiana county, Pa., about 1½ miles from the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The improvements are—First, a two-story frame house, with five rooms, a large frame barn, 45x70, corn crib, carriage house, a good stone spring house and wood house. Second, a two-story log house, a large frame barn, 40x70, a 1½ story frame spring house, and other outbuildings. The fencing is all good, abundance of limestone on the place, and coal but a short distance. Convenient to Churches, Schools, Mills, &c. I am authorized to sell this property very cheap and on easy terms.

Also, An excellent Farm of 160 acres, of which 98 acres are under cultivation, situate in Christian county, Illinois. Improvements—a new frame dwelling containing 5 rooms; about 400 choice fruit trees, good fencing, &c. It lies within 3 miles of the Illinois Central R. R.; will be sold on reasonable terms. City property taken in part exchange if desired.

Also, a Farm of 332 acres in Penn township, Westmoreland county, 220 acres cleared and under cultivation, 92 acres of first-rate white oak and other timber, 2 dwelling houses, 1 of them 2 stories, the other 1 story, with a tenant house, with a first-rate Steam sawmill in good running order; young orchard of grafted fruit. The land is rolling; every acre is tillable, with lime-stone soil and sub-soil, with never failing springs; within one hundred rods of the Penna. Central Railroad; 28 miles east of Pittsburgh, and three miles west of Greensburg. This farm is pleasantly and eligibly situated in a good neighborhood; every acre is underlaid with coal. The title is good.

Also, a two-story Brick House, with 10 rooms; 20 feet front and 56 feet back, with two good lots, situated in the village of Bairdstown, Derry township, Westmoreland county, Pa., on the bank of the Conemaugh river, immediately opposite the Borough of Blairsville. This property I will sell for the low price of $1500.

Also, a Farm of 220 acres, situated in East Wheatfield township, Indiana county, Penna. The improvements are a good frame house, frame barn, and other outbuildings; about 100 cleared and under good fence, the residue in good timber. The soil is of a good quality, well watered, convenient to churches, schools, mills, etc. Will be sold at the low price of $40 per acre. Possession immediately.

For further particulars, enquire of

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, June 24, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 138⅛; Eighty-one bonds, 112⅞; Five Twenties, 1862, 110⅝; Five Twenties, 1864, 107; Five Twenties, 1865, 107½; 1865 Consols, 11½; Seven Thirties, 106¼; Ten Forties, 100; Michigan Southern Railroad, 71⅝; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 78¼; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, 99; Erie, 60⅝; Chicago and Northwestern, 35½; Chicago and Northwestern preferred 59¾; New York Central, 102¼; Reading, 107¼; Chicago and Rock Island, 91½; Western Union Telegraph, 43⅝; Gregory, 5,75; Corydon, 1,70; Quartz Hill, 1,50.

The gold market opened strong this morning at 138½, advanced to 138¾, and closed at 138⅛ bid. No reasonable cause can be given for this continued advance, but the gradual absorbtion of the gold into the United States Treasury and those not inconsiderable amounts being carried out of the country by excursionists and the regular shipments. The shipments from California may safely be set down as being absorbed for manufacturing purposes, at least, for a very large part of it; speculators and parties who are using gold for their daily business transactions do not speak any more with as much much assurance of the coming decline as they did a few days ago. If it were not reasonable to suppose that with over one hundred millions of gold in the United States Treasury there can be no material advance of the premium, the timid would have been frightened by the firmness of the market, and run up the price to the forties.

Government securities have further advanced to-day, and the consols are fully up to the issues of 1864 and 1865, and rather higher, considering the time of maturity of the next coupons. Ten-Forty bonds are now the cheapest in the market, but are not looked upon with much favor. Seven Thirties have declined, and if the Government desires to buy them cheap, now is an opportunity before the week closes.

The stock market is still higher to-day than Saturday. The fancies are excluded from the advance. Fort Wayne, on account of its maturing dividend, is the strongest stock on the list; likewise, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, Adams' Express, Western Union Telegraph and Rock Island. Mining shares are somewhat lower to-day and transactions are light. The pressure for money is increasing.

—James S. Page, of Chicago, has petitioned for a writ of mandamus to compel the Board of Trade of that city to restore him to the privileges of membership. On the 14th of May he sold to Stevens & Brown 5 000 bushels of corn at 95½c; on the 21st of the same month bought of them 5000 bushels at 105½ giving his note for $500 to balance. S. & B. demanded payment of the note, which the petitioner refused, alleging that he was about to go into bankruptcy. S. & B. therefore had him expelled from the Board of Trade.

—The director of the Bureau of Statistics, Treasury Department, gives the total value of foreign commodities imported into the United States for the four months ending April 30, 1867, as follows:

—The Boston Post of Saturday says: The supply of capital continues abundant for all legitimate business purposes and seldom if ever was there a time when there was less demand for money for speculation. There is but little alteration in the rates of interest or discount, although there seems to be an impression that the banks are gradually bringing the minds of their 6 and 6½ per cent. customers to a realizing sense of the fact, that in about ten days, it will be lawful for chartered institutions to charge seven per cent per annum for the use of their funds. Individuals may then charge a still higher rate, provided an agreement is made in writing. The principal business in discounts to-day was at 6½@7 per cent, with exceptions at 6. The banks are generally asking 5 per cent. for loans on Governments, but there is a considerable amount of floating capital in the hands of individuals, who seem inclined to loan on first-class collateral at 5@5½ per cent. rather than make permanent investments at the present high prices of United States bonds and other first-class securities.

—It appears that shipments of Flour are being made from New Orleans to St. Louis. The Cairo correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial says:

> The item of flour going from New Orleans to St. Louis is somewhat remarkable. I am informed that flour has for some weeks been retailing at New Orleans cheaper than it is held at wholesale at St. Louis. Speculators in this article have far overreached themselves this season, and those who have held large amounts for the purpose of keeping the price beyond the reach of the poor will find themselves much nearer ruin and bankruptcy than extraordinary wealth, by the time the new wheat crop is gathered. From all parts of this section and aim at the entire West, the information here shows that the wheat crop is better than for many years.

New York Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 24.—Receipts 3,400 beeves; 17,115 sheep and lambs; 18,148 swine, under a large increase in the receipts for the past week, and liberal offerings this morning, about 18,000 being on sale. The market for beef cattle ruled heavy; at the opening the prices ruled at 12c lower. No general demand toward the close; however the butchers bought rather free, and about all the offerings were disposed of, but the prices indicate a decline of ½@1c per lb., compared with last week's average quality of offerings; fair extra sold at 18½c; prime, 17½@17¾c; first quality, 17@17½c; fair to good 16@16½c, and ordinary to inferior, 13@14c. The market for sheep ruled heavy, though the prices are essentially unchanged, and the demand rather more active; a few late extras sold at 7½c; we quote the range at 4@7½c, the inside price for inferior. Lambs at 10@13c, notwithstanding the increased receipts. Hog market ruled firm and quite active; 18 car loads were on sale this morning, and all disposed of at 7@14¼, the latter for heavy prime corn fed.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 22—Dry Goods market quiet but firm for all staple goods; heavy Brown Sheetings sell steady; 18c for best makes, 16@18½c for second, and 16@16½c for common and light goods. Light makes of narrow bleached muslins a shade firmer; goods which have been sold low at 10c are now held at 10½c; medium and fine grades firm and in limited request. Low priced colored goods dull and depressed; better qualities of medium dealt in are steady, but the sales are light. Ground prints are in fair request and steady for Standard makes. A good line of medium styles of Nationals, were opened by a jobbing house to-day, and sold quick at 12½c. Woolens nominal.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, June 24, 1866.

The general markets were very dull to-day, and the general impression seems to be that there will be no material improvement until after harvest. Flour and Grain has reacted a little in the west during the past day or two, owing, it is said, to the manipulations of speculators, but it will not amount to much, as the weather continues very favorable for the growing crop, and there is appearance at present of an abundant harvest.

GRAIN—There is nothing doing in Wheat. Oats in better demand and firmer but unchanged: we continue to quote at 63@65c, on track, and 68@70c for small lots in store. Corn is dull, but there seems to be no disposition manifested to make concessions in order to effect sales; prime Yellow may be quoted at 85@90c. Barley is selling at $1@1,05 for prime Spring. Rye is dull and nominal at $1,20@1,25.

FLOUR—Continues quiet and dull, the demand being restricted almost entirely to supplying immediate wants, while prices are nominally unchanged. We continue to quote at $11@11,50 for Spring Wheat; $11.75@12 for choice do; $12,50@13 for Winter Wheat, and $16.50@17 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is quoted at $7,75@8.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged. We quote Shoulders at 9¼@9½c; Ribbed Sides at 11¼@11½; Clear do, 12½, and Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams at 16@16½c. Lard dull at 12¼@13c. Mess Pork is dull and nominally unchanged.

POTATOES—Dull; the demand seems to be falling off daily, but prices remain unchanged; small sales of prime Peach Blows, in store, at $1,15@1,20 per bush.

CHEESE—Is dull, and the receipts are increasing. We continue to quote at 13@16c, according to quality.

EGGS—There is but a limited demand, and notwithstanding the receipts continue liberal, fresh packed are still held at 20c.

BUTTER—Is very quiet, being seldom mentioned. Occasionally there is an inquiry, and we can report occasional small sales of fresh at 17@18c.

HAY—Is dull, with a drooping tendency. We continue to quote at $18@22, according to quality. The indications now are that the Hay crop will be very heavy this season.

OIL—Lard Oil is reported steady, with regular sales by manufacturers at 80c for No. 2, and $1,04@1,05 for No. 1.

SEEDS—There is little or no inquiry for Clover or Timothy, and there is but little Flaxseed offering. The latter may be quoted at $3.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, June 24, 1867.

CRUDE—The market, although very quiet to-day, the reported sales being unusually light, was a shade firmer, and particularly was this the case in regard to future deliveries. The advance at Antwerp, notwithstanding it is unimportant as yet, has made a slight impression on the market, and has caused many to believe that the bottom has at least been touched. The consequence is, that there is not the same disposition manifested to sell ahead that there was a short time since, and the number of buyers—mostly on speculation—has somewhat increased, and this, as a matter of course, has a tendency to produce a stiffer feeling on the part of holders; and, while it is possible, and even probable, that there will be a little "spurt" upward, it is not probable that there will be any big prices this year, as the indications at present do not point in that direction. We can report two small sales: 810 barrels, on spot, at 6½c, and 140, on spot, at 6—both to fill contracts. For delivery in 1868, there are buyers at 12½c, buyers option, and so far as we can learn, but few, if any sellers, at that price.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil, although quiet, was also a shade firmer to-day, and we presume that the reason why there was so little done, was owing to an indisposition on the part of holders to sell at the prices. We have but a single operation to report, 500 bbls prime light straw to white, for June delivery in Philadelphia, at 20c, which is a slight advance. Standard white would sell without much difficulty at 22 for June, and 23 for July. but these figures at present do not seem to be satisfactory to sellers.

ARRIVALS—But a single arrival reported: 140 bbls for Mawhinney & Edwards

OIL SHIPPED EAST FROM DUQUESNE DEPOT.

Sterling Oil Ref Co, 134 bbls refined to W P Logan & Bro, Phila; Buffum, Kehew & Co, 180 do to W P Logan & Bro, Phila; Waring & King, 28 do do to Waring, King & Co, Phila; Union Ref & St Co, 152 do do W P Logan & Bro, Phila.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, June 22.—The wool market is more quiet and transactions lighter, than for many years past towards the close of the season. There is very little actual demand in view of the dullness of products, and the still more important fact that the new wool clip promises to come upon the market at low prices. Manufacturers buy only what material they are compelled to use, and their wants, just now, with a large part of our woolen machinery lying idle are very limited.

But the stocks of desirable fleece wool, adapted to the production of seasonable goods, are reduced to a small compass, and hence holders are not anxious, and prices are tolerably well sustained. According to present indications and reports from the west, new wool will not be in the eastern markets to any great extent, for several weeks to come, and in the meantime consumers have generally made up their minds to rely upon these near-by markets for current supplies. They may be compelled to send into the country, in some cases, where very choice lots of fine staple are wanted for certain specialities, as this grade is now nearly out of the market. But, as a general thing, they will not and need not, anticipate the regular course of trade.

Hence with the prospect that old wool will be sold close up, and that new wool may be had at moderate figures whenever it shall be wanted, both buyers and sellers are indifferent, and not much change in values is expected, at least until the next wool season is fairly inaugurated. The speculations in regard to the opening prices of the new clip are extremely vague and contradictory. In fact, no reliable opinion can be formed till the wool is fairly off the sheeps' back and ready for the market. Growers talk relatively high prices, of course, as it is for their interest to do. But when they come to the actual matter of business, and find that their product will be left on their hands unless they are willing to part with it at rates which will enable eastern merchants and manufacturers to make a living, they will probably abate their demands somewhat.

There is neither money nor confidence, this year, to be put into wool speculations. No amount of management and tactics can force up prices in the face of a glutted and dull goods market. Western buyers will operate very cautiously whenever they make up their minds to take hold of the crop. Money is scarce among farmers, and just now wanted to pay the heavy local taxes. Under these circumstances, the latter will hardly find it for their interest to hold back, but will probably let their product come forward and be converted into cash at whatever rates the markets of consumption will legitimately sustain.

Sales of domestic for the week have been light, and foot up some 450 000 lbs, at a range of 35@70c for fleece and 40@60c for the various grades of pulled.—Bulletin.

New York Produce Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 24.—Cotton dull; sales 890 bales uplands at 26c. Flour 15@25c better; receipts 6,104 bbls and California 11 111 sacks; less active; sales 12 0 bbls superfine State and Western at $7.20@8,40; extra Western, $8 95@9 85, choice, $10.40@11,90; shipping Ohio $10,20@11,00; trade brands, $11,10@12 50; spring St. Louis, $9.75@12,00; Western, $12,00@16.50; California decidedly higher; sales 2800 bbls at $11,50@13,50; very choice, $13.75. Rye Flour steady; sales 400 bbls at $6,25@8,75. Whisky firmer; sales 300 bbls Western at 36c. Wheat 3@4c better; business restricted by advanced prices; sales 36 000 bus at $2.15@2,20 for No. 2 Milwaukee; $2,70@2.80 for white California. Rye dull and unsettled; sales 560 bus Western at $1.16@1,25. Barley dull. Malt quiet; sales 15,000 bus at $1,55. Receipts Corn, 3 160 bus; market opened 1c better and closed quiet, with an advance at last sales; 47,000 bus sold at $1,10@1.12 for new mixed Western; $1,00@1.09 for inferior and soft do; and $1,13 for white Southern. Oats 1@2c better; sales 56,000 bus; 80c for Western; 90c for Ohio. Stock in warehouse:—wheat, 471,085 bush; corn, 259,672 bush; oats, 338,175 bush; rye, 94,285 bush; barley, 28,650 bush; barley malt, 17,549 bush; peas, 32,453 bush. Rice steady. Coffee unchanged. Sugar steady at 11@11⅝c for Cuba. Molasses heavy. Petroleum dull at 14c for crude, and 23@23¼c for refined in bond. Hops quiet. Pork firmer; sales of 6,400 bbls at $21.1@21,50 for new mess, closing at $21,40 cash, $20,50 for old No. 1, $18 20 for prime, and 21,25 for prime mess. Beef firm; sales 150 bbls. Beef Hams quiet; sales 181 bbls at $38@41. Bacon scarce and quiet; sales 270 boxes at 10½@10¾c for Cumberland cut, 11½c for short rib, and 12¼@12½c for short clear. Cut Meats dull; sales 130 pks at 9¼@9½c for shoulders, and 12@13¼c for hams. Lard steady; sales 1,200 bbls at 11½@12½c for new. Butter unchanged. Cheese steady. Freights to Liverpool quiet and steady.

LATEST; 5 P. M.—Flour closed a shade firmer for fresh ground but dull for old. Wheat is quiet, the late rapid advance materially checking the demand, closing nominal at $2.10@2,25 for No. 2 spring; $2,30@2 40 for No. 1. Rye quiet; $1.15@1,25 for Western. Oats is steady at 80c per bu. for Western; 90c for Ohio. Corn is dull at $1,04@1,12 for new mixed western. Pork is lower; 750 bbls at $20,25 cash; $20,18¾ regular; closing quiet with sellers, $20,18 cash, and buyers $20,15, sellers at $20 25, regular, and buyers at $20,17, regular. Beef is quiet and very firm with only a limited supply. Cut meats are steady and nominally unchanged. Bacon is quiet; 10½c for Cumberland; 11¼@11½c for short ribbed, and 12¼@12½c for short clear sides. Lard is dull at 12½@12¾c for fair to prime steamed, and 12¾@12⅞c for kettle rendered.

St. Louis Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, June 24.—Tobacco steady. Cotton, nothing doing. Hemp unchanged at $1 35@1,40 for undressed, $1,70 for dressed. RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede slowly at this point with scant twenty-nine inches in the channel at Glass House. The weather yesterday was oppressively hot in the sun though at times the sky was overcast with heavy clouds, and there was every appearance of rain.

There has not been a single arrival since our last report. The Maggie Hays was reported at Glass House yesterday, and it is possible she may have reached the landing last night.

The Belle, Capt. Loughrey, with Mr. J. W. Chambers, in the office, is the regular packet for Cincinnati to-day, leaving at 10 o'clock this forenoon. The Belle is a good low water boat, and being of light draught, will go through with dispatch.

The Kate Putnam, Bellevernon and Sherman were expected to arrive at St. Louis on Saturday last. The Amelia Poe and Yorktown are expected to reach there from Fort Benton within a day or two.

The Great Republic passed Cairo on Friday, last, enroute for New Orleans, about two-thirds loaded. She received seventy-five tons at Cairo. The St. Louis Democrat, of Saturday, says:

> One of the boilers of the Pauline Carroll exploded night before last, near Cape Girardeau, and Tim Constantine, a deckhand, was severely scalded. On arriving here yesterday morning he was sent to the City hospital, and is not expected to recover. The boat was but slightly damaged by the explosion.

James McKay, of New York, the builder of raceboats, has received orders for a new one for Jimmy Hamill.

The M. S. Mepham recently made the run from Vicksburg to New Orleans in twenty-three hours, making eight way landings.

Thos. Fuller, chief clerk of the Chippewa Falls, an Upper Mississippi steamer, met with a narrow escape from drowning recently, by the upsetting of a skiff.

It is said that Capt. Jas. Pepper is an interested party in Capt. Sam. Montgomery's new steamer Dexter.

The Louisville Courier records the following act of meanness: The clerk and mate of the General Buell, on the occasion of the five boys being carried over the falls in a skiff on Sunday last, promptly manned the yawl and went to the rescue. They could not get the yawl back again, but sent a dray down to the shore, just below the Elm Tree Garden, to haul it back to town, but the proprietor of the grounds would not let the dray go through his enclosure.

The Louisville Journal says: Mr. M. A. Bryson, appointed by the late river Improvement Convention at St. Louis, to gather statistics and perform other important duties in connection with the objects of that Convention, will visit New Albany in a few days, in order to consult with the citizens in regard to the improvement of the Falls of the Ohio and that part of the river between the Falls and Cairo, with a view to the best methods to be adopted to that end. Mr. Bryson has already visited all the principal towns on the Lower Mississippi between New Orleans and Cairo.

In regard to the barge towing system, the Memphis Bulletin says:

> In view of an active revival of trade as the fall approaches, the establishment of a Memphis and St. Louis barge line is again exciting the interest of merchants, and since a most liberal charter has been obtained there is no reason to doubt that the enterprise, which is in the hands of Captain W. C. Postal, John Mancourt, and others of like ability, will be completed and in operation at an early day. High rates of freight have too long affected the trade of Memphis, driving it to other cities, and it behooves Memphis merchants to embrace eagerly this or any enterprise that will beget competition leading to reduce rates of freight. We understand that a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to consider this important matter will be held on Thursday.

The Louisville Courier, of Saturday says: The towboat Alps has arrived from New Orleans in a crippled condition. She broke the pitman of the starboard cylinder, and broke the cylinder head, and had to make the trip with one engine and half a wheel. She is a sternwheeler. The Alps left her tow of empty barges at Cole's Creek, just above Natchez. The officers report the lower Mississippi below the mouth of the Arkansas, rising, and it was within eight inches of the late flood tide at some localities, caused by the freshet in the Arkansas and tributaries.
